Y Fund Campaign Will Be Launched at Dinner Tonight

A kick-off dinner tonight in the new YMCA building will mark the opening of a one-week drive for an additional $148,500 needed to complete the building.

Tuesday approximately 625 voluntary workers will begin calling on Marion residences in an effort to collect $55,000, goal set for the popular gifts division.

The popular gifts workers will receive their final instructions tonight at the dinner, which will mark the first such event in the new building. Following the meeting, the workers will be conducted through the building.

The campaign has been made necessary by two major factors: increased costs of construction since the outbreak of the Korean war, and the fact that the other campaign fell short of the goal.

The present campaign will be conducted under a plan similar to that used in 1950. The organization will operate under a military basis.

HEADING THE POPULAR gifts organization are J. B. Bray, Wendell Ward, Mrs. B. H. Buettin and Mrs. Karl Holly. Frank M. Foster and Robert J. LaMarche will head the industrial division and Robert K. Rohr is in charge of the big gifts division.

Five divisions, all made up of five regiments and including 125 workers, will contact the prospective contributors. Each division will be headed by a general. Working under the generals will be five colonels and they in turn will be in charge of five captains. Each captain has enlisted the aid of five lieutenants to work with him.

Heading the first division will be Robert T. Mason. Julian Walker is second division general and in charge of the third is John Ryan. Robert Bush heads the fourth division and William Charle is in charge of the fifth.

EACH OF THE five divisions has been given a goal of $11,000 during the one-week campaign which ends next Monday. That means that each regiment will have a goal of $2,200. Goal for each worker will be $88.

The 1950 popular gifts drive was handed a goal of $200,000. When the drive was completed, the volunteer workers had collected $210,901 in pledges.

No outside help will be used in the present campaign. During 1950, Marts and Lundy Inc., New York fund raising specialists, directed the job. The same plan will be used now with local guidance.

Almost half of the $148,500 is needed to pay off contract obligations on the new building, Y officials report. The remaining money will be used for furnishings and equipment.

THE 1950 CAMPAIGN was held in June and just as it ended the war erupted in Korea. At the end of the campaign a total of $710,000 was available. When the Y asked for estimates on the cost of construction, the estimates ranged up to slightly more than $1,000,000. Building was delayed and then restrictions on new buildings went into effect and for a long time, federal approval of the new structure was not forthcoming from the National Production Authority.

While waiting for the NPA approval, Y officials learned that the soaring prices had leveled off and they decided to move ahead with plans. However, the costs still have not returned to normal.

TOTAL COST of the new building is placed at around $901,410 by Y officials. Largest items in that amount include the $700,000 price of the building, purchase of the site for $40,000, engineering fees which cost around $42,000 and the cost of furnishing set at $71,000.

The drive will be marked by the presentation of a check, the first money collected during the present drive by YMCA youths. The check will be the amount of money collected by the Y youths during a candy sale held last winter. All profits from the drive were to go toward furnishing the building. The check will be presented by two members of the youth department at tonight's meeting to the chairmen of the drive.

Officials of the drive have announced that Chet Long, newscaster for WBNS-TV in Columbus, will make films at the kick-off meeting tonight and they will be shown on his news show Tuesday night.

CAMPAIGN WORKERS were confident this morning they could reach their goal by next Monday's deadline. Tentative opening day for the new building has been set for July 26. An open house period is planned then to give Marion residents a chance to see the facilities of the new structure. When completed, the Y will include all the features promised during the 1950 drive.

A spokesman for the campaign said he thought the open house plan was wise. He pointed out the $900,000 building will have been constructed through the contributions of Marionites and he felt they should be given the week to see just what their money had purchased.

When completed the Marion Y will be unique in that it will be the first Y building ever built on the American continent with an eye to giving men and women equal facilities.

IT IS DESIGNED and planned for equal use of men and women and will allow for an expanded adult program. Other YMCA buildings have been operated jointly by the YM and YW but this will be the first constructed to accommodate both sexes equally.

Following tonight's kickoff dinner, the workers will meet Thursday at 6 p.m. in the present building for their first report meeting. The final report meeting is scheduled next Monday at the present building to climax the campaign.

Ridgway Reports To Congress

European Defense Still Weak, Need Funds, He States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway told Congress today even if free Europe's forces are built up to planned strength this year they still will be too weak "to prevent serious reverses in event of attack" by the Communists.

The European defense commander, who is soon to become U. S. Army chief of staff, testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in support of the administration's request for $5,800,000,000 of continued foreign aid in the 12 months beginning July 1.

Ridgway gave the committee a sober review of the European military situation, and said continuation of American aid "is essential to the security of the United States as well as to all the NATO na-

Cornerstone Placed For New Temple of Israel

By CHARLES MARTIN

Nearly 100 persons braved a steady rainfall Sunday afternoon to attend the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the new Jewish Temple in Marion at the building site at S. Seffner and Mt. Vernon Aves.

A brief talk on the past history of the congregation and the introduction of present officers was given by Ben Lenavitt and a response was given by the Rev. Ashley Booth, pastor of Central Christian Church and past president of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

Other Protestant ministers attending the ceremony were the Rev. William Reeves, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church; the Rev. Frederick W. Leech, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church; and the Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor of Calvary EUB Church. They

The European buildup has progressed steadily from the "exposed and almost defenseless condition" of 1950, he said, but added:

"Our available land, air and naval forces are still very inadequate. There are not in existence or in sight mobile land forces in general reserve for inter-regional use"—that is, for example, to back up a thrust against the Middle East.

Ridgway said "Today, as a year ago, air power is still the weakest link in our defense. . . . There are still major deficiencies, for example, in support units, logistical establishments and stocks of ammunitions."

Ridgway, who arrived here yesterday from his Paris headquarters, is making his first attempt as Europe's North Atlantic Treaty commander to talk Congress out of funds. It is a sort of warmup for part of his duties as Army chief of staff, the job to which he has been named by President Eisenhower, effective Aug. 16.

Ridgway last appeared before a congressional group in 1952 while en route from Tokyo, where he had been the Allies' Far East chief, to Paris, where he took over from Eisenhower as supreme commander in Europe.

He faces detailed questioning this time on the progress and prospects of the Nato military buildup, which has stirred strong criticism recently in Congress.

Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a member of the foreign affairs committee, said the general's testimony may have an important bearing on consideration of administration requests for more than three billion dollars in military and limited economic aid to Europe next year.

In all, Eisenhower has requested $5,800,000,000 to continue foreign aid throughout the free world for the 12 months starting July 1.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has decided to take a first hand look at some of the countries tabbed for such assistance. Chairman Bridges (R-NH) announced Saturday a two-man subcommittee will make a survey in the Far East, leaving May 27, and another subcommittee will do the same in Europe later.

Wet Week

Nearly three-quarters of an inch of rain fell in Marion Sunday to bring the total rainfall since last Tuesday to 2.04 inches. The average rainfall for this area is between 32 and 40 inches a year.

Sunday's measurement was the heaviest fall of the six-day period. Tuesday's total was .34 inch, Wednesday had .21, Thursday .29, Friday .02 and Saturday .49.

In addition to the downpour, Marion was included with most of Ohio in preparing for a tornado which had been reported brewing for the state. Weather reports Sunday morning told of a possible tornado which might have hit southern Ohio.

In Marion, most action was centered around the Marion Municipal Airport where airport workers were called into service in putting planes ordinarily tied down on the airport ramps into the shelter of a hangar owned by the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. The workers were forced to carry the planes some 30 feet over an excavation for a new taxi-way at the front of the building. In Marion, wind blew down a tree at 645 Davids St. The tree was removed by city street crews.

The heavy rain caused rivers to rise in the Marion area and temporarily flooded some streets in the city. The county engineer's office reported today no roads have as yet been closed by high water.

Unable to attend as scheduled were the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V.F., pastor of St. Mary Church, and Rabbi Norman Kahan of Temple Beth-El, Lima.

Sol Freed, president of the Congregation of Israel, spoke briefly, asking God's guidance and wisdom for Temple Israel and its members as he placed mortar around the cornerstone to fix its position.

Mementos Put in Box

Prior to the laying of the Cornerstone by Freed, Lenavitt placed various mementos of the Congregation of Israel in a copper box which was placed inside the cornerstone. Included were a prayerbook, a letter from George Kleinmaier, a list of past and present members of the Congregation, history of the organization, prayers of the oldest confirmed class of the congregation, a list of the children of the Sunday School, some mementos made by these children, photographs and newspaper clippings concerning the organization, and a copy of Saturday's Star with the advance story of the cornerstone program.

In his talk, the Rev. Mr. Booth said that down through the ages mankind of all races and creeds have always found things in common. Among them are the churches, synagogues, temples or other places of worship, he said.

91 More Blood Donors Needed

Bloodmobile Will Be Here Wednesday

At least 91 blood donors are needed to make the Wednesday visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit to Marion a success this month, officials of the Red Cross office announced today.

The quota for the visit is 150 pints. The unit will be at the First Presbyterian Church from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and those wishing to be donors are asked to call the Red Cross office, 2-1653, for an appointment.

Ohio Pilot Bags MIG Without Firing Shot

SEOUL (AP)—Maj. John H. Jones Jr., of Belmont, O., doesn't believe in wasting ammunition during air battles.

The Air Force said the pilot from Ohio maneuvered a MIG into crashing on a mountain during a continuing air battle Saturday.

Not a shot was fired in the action.

Airport at 12:05 p. m. EST aboard a Pan American Airways plane from Frankfurt, Germany.

Oatis spent 25 months in a Prague prison. Czech authorities held he was a spy. Then, suddenly, this week they released him.

Mrs. Oatis last saw her husband almost three years ago—at Kensington Air Terminal in London on June 23, 1950, as he took off for his Prague assignment.

They had been married less than three months at the time.

Before leaving Frankfurt last night, Oatis said the Czechs gave him "psychological" treatment before his trial, in which he confessed guilt.

He was not terrorized or mishandled, and the Czechs did not try to indoctrinate him with communism, he said.

However, he said:

"They were very efficient in their methods and preparation for my trial. It would be very difficult for me to describe what happened so that I could be understood by any one not familiar with such proceedings or with what is done individually.

"I think you could call it more psychological than anything else.

"If what I was heard to say or reported to have said during the trial sounded like I was reciting something, why that's the way it was."

The newsman from Marion, Ind., was thin, pale, a bit bewildered by his sudden freedom, but in seeming good health. He said his treatment by the Czechs was "generally good."

He explained his accusation by the Czechs this way:

"As a newspaperman, I have always acted or tried to act as best I could on the proposition that a news story, to be fair, should present all essential sides. During the time I was in Prague, I found there were quite different ideas about what constituted objectivity in news reporting.

"Many people, especially people in charge of the (Czech) government, do not see things as we do in the United States or other countries where freedom of the press exists.

"I found that an American reporter, trying his best to do a job as fairly as he could, was not understood."

His first two days of freedom were full of surprises—as well as delight—for Oatis. He got no news of any kind in prison and didn't even know that Joseph Stalin was dead or that Dwight D. Eisenhower was U. S. President.

"Who is Rocky Marciano?" he asked when somebody mentioned the fighter who has been world heavyweight boxing champion since last September.

He was unable to comment about the recent Soviet "peace offensive" or the general amnesty for Czech prisoners because he hadn't heard about them.

Engagement Announced at Whitney Long Island Estate

Roosevelt Granddaughter to Wed Barber's Son

MANHASSET, N. Y. (AP)—A party in Philadelphia. A barber shop on New York's East Side. An extensive estate here on Long Island. Talent and youth and romance.

Today it all added up to a wedding next month for a granddaughter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the gifted piano-playing son of an immigrant Italian barber.

She is Sara Delano Roosevelt, 21, daughter of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President. The bridegroom-to-be is Anthony Di Bonaventura, 23, once a child prodigy at the piano, whose father operates a barber shop near the family's brownstone home on East 17th Street, Manhattan.

Sara's mother, now married to millionaire sportsman and financier John Hay Whitney, formally announced the engagement here Saturday night.

Yesterday Di Bonaventura's parrents visited the Whitney estate and later told newsmen that their son is marrying into a very nice family.

SARA DELANO ROOSEVELT

ANTHONY DI BONAVENTURA

The couple met at a party in Philadelphia more than a year ago. Both are studying in that area. She is a junior at Bryn Mawr College, and he graduates from the Curtis Institute of Music this month.

Sara had visited her fiance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Di Bonaventura, on 17th Street before the engagement was formally announced. Mrs. Di Bonaventura told a newsman they liked her "very much."

Yesterday the Whitneys sent a limousine into Manhattan to take the Di Bonaventuras to the Long Island estate.

"Wonderful people, and they have a beautiful place — a mansion," said the elder Di Bonaventura after visiting the Whitneys, who are said to have about 54 million dollars.

Anthony, who expects to go into the Army in July, was at the estate for the week end.

He helped show his parents around the grounds with its stables, golf course, swimming pool and a glass-roofed field house, besides the main house.

The father reported he had a good time and met lots of people.

The prospective bride's mother, the former Betsy Cushing, divorced Roosevelt in 1940. The engagement announcement also disclosed that Whitney had legally adopted her daughter in 1949.

Beauty Secret For Hands Discovered

One of the most remarkable beauty secrets ever discovered happened years ago on the plains of Australia during sheep-shearing season. The hands of the men were dry, calloused and bruised. But almost immediately an amazing phenomenon occurred. Bruises were healed . . . their hands were soft, supple and smooth. What happened?

Lanolin, the closest actual duplication to esters and cholesterols, nature's own skin oils, is found in the fats and oils of the sheep's wool. As the men sheared the sheep lanolin was absorbed deep into the layers of the skin. Lanolin made their hands BEAUTIFUL!

Today, Lanolin Plus, containing

Dramatize And Highlight The Unsuspected Beauty Of Your Hair

To give yourself the correct shampoo, make certain that the hair is gently massaged with the fingertips throughout the shampooing process. It's not only pleasant and relaxing, but it stimulates the sebaceous glands of the scalp and makes them more active. Rinsing must be done with great care, slowly and effectively. Most emphatically, thoroughly! The desirable method is the use of a professional spray.

Now! What kind of a shampoo lotion? It mustn't contain harsh ingredients that tend to dry out the hair. It must not leave the hair with a sticky, dull film. It must leave it soft, shiny, manageable!

For some time, we have known that lanolin contains the substitute for nature's own oils to help nourish and lubricate the skin and scalp. The best shampoo to choose is one that contains a generous supply of rich lanolin suds. Such a product is LANOLIN PLUS HARD WATER SHAMPOO. Here is a shampoo that lathers in the hardest water. It's gentle on the hair, and its rich, lanolized suds whisk away completely all dirt and grime so that the hair is left soft and silken with beautiful glistening highlights. Just as the shampoo cleanses, its oil pampers the hair.

It's economical, too, because it's fast-acting, with just one or two applications needed per washing. Only $1 at all cosmetic counters.

New Lanolin Plus Cleansing

Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes natural skin oils with softening, lubricating substances. Try it today treat your face to a facial pick-up!

Is Your Hair In Perfect Condition?

Works Quickly, Effectively, Inexpensively To Restore That Youthful Look!

Chemists discovered that the supply of body substances which give softness and pliability to the skin diminishes with age. Therefore, they based the formula for Lanolin Plus on these important facts, combining highly refined Lanolin PLUS other beauty-benefiting ingredients.

Lanolin Plus Liquid contains a concentrated supply of esters and cholesterols, the two elements found normally in young skin but which diminish with advancing age. It's the lack of these essential oils which cause "crow's feet," wrinkles and harsh, dry skin. Lanolin Plus Liquid immediately sends a rich supply of softening, lubricating substances into the thirsty under-surface of your skin to help combat this aging, drying process. Lanolin Plus Liquid keeps your complexion soft and supple . . . no matter what your age. Try it for a facial treat . . . a perfect pick-up for dry, tired, weather-worn skin! Here's a quick, simple way to soften your skin, make it glow with new vitality and beauty.

1. Hold a hot washcloth to your face and neck for about a minute to open pores and allow tired muscles to relax.

2. Briskly massage warmed Lanolin Plus (warm bottle under hot water tap) into face and neck until skin begins to tingle.

3. After a few minutes, wipe away impurities brought to pore openings by soothing Lanolin Plus Liquid.

Lanolin Plus Liquid is simple as ABC to use! Gently massage a few drops into your skin before retiring. It works while you sleep, leaves no greasy film on your pillow!

Continued use makes dryness disappear, premature wrinkles due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions diminish or fade away completely! You'll love its economy, too! Only a few drops are necessary due to its deep-down action.

Since this lanolin-rich liquid lubricates and softens the skin, it has other beneficial uses: If the heels or insteps or toes are calloused or rough, a relaxing foot bath followed by a Lanolin Plus Liquid massage does wonders for softening and soothing the dried out areas. It's excellent also for sun-tanning and after swimming, during out of season sunny-clime vacations.

How long has it been since you have analyzed objectively what your complexion is really like? It's up to you whether your skin becomes prematurely wrinkled, or is soft and supple, with glowing, youthful radiance.

There is no season of the year, when it isn't necessary to conduct your own personal "complexion campaign." Climatic conditions — harsh wintery winds or hot, penetrating sunrays . . . do rob the skin of its natural oils, leaving it hard and dry. Ordinary facial cleansers rob the skin of its natural oils. You must compensate for lost natural lubricants if your skin is to become softened and smooth in appearance; if you are to avoid dry skin and aging wrinkle lines.

Only Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes these natural oils so vitally needed to nourish and protect and lubricate the skin. Remember . . . it's up to you! How you care for your skin today means the difference between a beautiful, youthful complexion, or a hard, dry, unattractive one tomorrow!

the right amount of lanolin and combined with other ingredients for absolute effectiveness, is the only formula to hold an exclusive United States patent.

LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION is richly enforced with this precious substance lanolin. It's a velvety lotion that gives immediate effects, both protective and remedial. It doesn't leave the skin sticky and greasy, but restores a soothing softness and suppleness to dry, crackly skin.

You'll like the delicate refreshing scent as well as the tiny miniature ivory pump that ejects the few drops necessary for an application. Cream Endows Dry Skin With Vital Oils

Ever hear this comment . . . "I can't use soap and water on my complexion because it's so dry?"

What milady often fails to realize is that the cream she's using for cleansing may actually be drying out her skin.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream for Dry Skin offers in cream form a cleansing agent delightful in texture due to its quick melting and deep penetrating oils.

Why does Lanolin benefit your skin? Because Lanolin, a product obtained from the wool of lambs, is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin.

As we grow older the normal lubrication and elimination of the skin tends to diminish. Due to the lack of natural moisture and lubrication the skin becomes dry, coarse, dull and old.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin gives you the needed supplementary oils to combat those conditions in your skin.

LANOLIN PLUS CLEANSING CREAM FOR DRY SKIN . . . $1 plus federal tax. At all cosmetic counters.

You may spend hours in a beauty salon or at home concerning yourself with stylings, rinses, bleaches and "touch-ups." Oh, your hair may look pretty after all this care, but what's it really like deep down at the scalp? What is the condition of its health? Have harsh chemicals, sunlight and hair dryers sapped its inner strength and beauty? These things can happen, you know. And they happen at a great cost of time and money to you.

External hair care is important and wise for the final appearance of the well-groomed woman. There is no question about it. Yet, in accomplishing this external beauty, is the same amount of time and care given to its internal condition? You can tell this way: look for split ends, hair strands that have a dull, dry look, a coiffure that remains unmanageable. If these things are apparent in your situation, your hair lacks the proper lubricants. Nature's own oil, esters and cholesterols are in need of a helpmeet. Lanolin, so closely duplicating these natural oils, provides the solution.

The newest hair conditioner available today, Lanolin Plus for the Hair, just as its name implies, is steeped with this rich supplement.

It can be used in several ways. It should be rubbed gently into the scalp and massaged into hair strands the night before a shampoo. In this way, it is an excellent aid for reviving dull, damaged hair. If dryness is not severe, brush a few drops through the hair after each shampoo working a small amount into the ends of the hair. In making the hair soft and flexible once more, it helps prevent split, broken ends and brings back a healthy, lustrous sheen. It helps keep unruly locks attractively in place. A few drops brushed on daily keeps shimmering highlights in the hair always.

You'll find, too, that the men at your house will like this new, lanolin-rich lotion for the hair. It does not leave smudge on hat bands, pillows or upholstery, but imparts a smooth, well-cared-for look.

You can purchase Lanolin Plus for the Hair for only $1, plus federal tax, at any cosmetic counter. It's the sure way to keep your hair in perfect condition!

Sixth Sense

By Inez Robb

"I was born 30 years too soon," the head of clan Robb said, as he unwrapped himself from the evening newspaper and lowered it momentarily.

INEZ ROBB

"You mean maybe if you were 30 years younger you'd be around for the first flight to the moon?" I guessed.

"No, something even more miraculous than that," he said. "I might be lucky enough to marry one of these new women who are going to be trained to do simple arithmetic, keep a household budget and understand family finance."

THEY'RE fitting blond wigs to these new mechanical brains: I guessed. "Is this new type paragon about to be thrown on the marriage market?" I asked.

"Not for another four years," Mr. R. replied. "It says here in the paper that Barnard College will include in its 1953-54 curriculum a course in 'personal finance since the trend toward feminine control of American family expenditures makes such a course advisable.'

"'Advisable?' Ha!" snorted the head of the house. "it makes it mandatory. I am but one of millions upon millions of American males who have spent the best years of their lives trying to untangle the little woman's check book and bring some kind of order out of the chaos she commits on the household accounts.

AS I SNATCHED the evening paper, I demanded "can we help it if we only have ten fingers or do we have eight fingers and two thumbs? I always forget."

"Don't try to change the subject!" Mr. R. bellowed.

"And I don't mind telling you that when we were in Paris last year, Allan said one day that you seemed to be having trouble with French money and I told him it was nothing compared to the trouble you could get into with American money."

"Flattery will get you no place," I reminded my husband.

"For the life of me, I have never been able to figure out why women not only can't add but are proud of the fact," Mr. R. muttered.

I EXPLAINED.

"It's like men not being able to hemstich and being proud of it."

"It's not the same thing at all!"

"Right here in this same story, it also says that Barnard is going to add courses in 'analytic philosophy' and 'contemporary French poetry,'" I said soothingly. "Do you think Allan Updegraff will be considered a French poet in that course?"

THE HEAD of clan Robb shouted: "Certainly not! Just because Allan lives in Paris most of the time dosen't make him a French poet. He's as American as apple pie.

"Yes, but he wrote most of his lovely new book 'Poems and Impressions' in Paris," I insisted.

"Don't try to change the subject!" Mr. R. bellowed.

"And I don't mind telling you that when we were in Paris last year, Allan said one day that you seemed to be having trouble with French money and I told him it was nothing compared to the trouble you could get into with American money."

"Flattery will get you no place," I reminded my husband.

"For the life of me, I have never been able to figure out why women not only can't add but are proud of the fact," Mr. R. muttered.

I EXPLAINED.

"It's like men not being able to hemstich and being proud of it."

"It's not the same thing at all!"

"Well, in all the years we've been married, have I ever overdrawn my account?" I demanded.

"No, you haven't," said the head of the house. "And I still don't see how a woman who never puts down the amount of money she deposits or the amounts of the checks she draws avoids it.

"But I have finally come to the conclusion that you have a sixth sense that always saves you from overdrawing that ultimate 50 cents.'

"There!" I cried triumphantly.

"With a sixth sense like that, I should go back to school and learn to add!"

Third Quarter Demand For Steel Heavy

CLEVELAND (AP)— The nation's steel mills appear assured of full production for the third quarter of this year, Steel magazine said today.

The metalworking journal, noting a "little spring fever in steel buying," said that buyers have at least three incentives:

"1. Expectations, or at least hope, of continued good business; 2. protection against a remote possibility of a steel strike; and 3. belief that base prices of steel will go up after completion of wage negotiations in the steel industry."

Producers quickly filled their order books "for as far ahead as they are willing to open them."

"Puzzling the forecasters," said the magazine, "is the automobile industry. Will its business hold up? It's the biggest consumer of steel, so its effect on the demand is might. The auto industry is still projecting hefty production schedules.

Demand was heavy last week and production increased half a point to 100.5 per cent of the nation's rated capacity. That would be 2,266,000 net tons of ingots and castings.

Youngsters Hear Truman Advice

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman, at 69, says he'd give anything "if the good Lord would let me be 19 again."

The former President told children at the religious school of Congregation B'Nai Jehudah yesterday he'd like to be 19 so that he might live during the next 50 years.

"You are at the end of one age and the beginning of another," he said. "You young people are going to see the development of the atomic age. It's a great responsibility you face."

Truman, who has said he likes to tour the nation talking to young people about their opportunities and responsibilities, also told the children:

"You always must do right. It will please some people and astonish the rest."

It is believed that wolves did not become extinct in Scotland until the 18th Century.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Modern American Classic

"Appointment in Samarra" was described on its first television appearance last Monday on the Robert Montgomery theater as a "modern American classic." I don't see how anyone can quarrel with that description. The novel, John O'Hara's first, was published in 1934. A world of aristocracy and inherited wealth had broken up or, at very least, changed drastically and abruptly in the stock market crash of 1929.

John Crosby

It's a theme of major importance and, while O'Hara was not the first to grapple with it, "Appointment in Samarra" was easily the most inspired, most thoughtful and most important book on the subject.

In fact, to my mind, O'Hara has never written anything that good since. Its translation to television presented grave difficulties both to the actor and to the adaptor and both, I think, came off triumphantly well.

THE NOVEL IS THE story of a man, Julian English, who is at the very end of his tether, at the very end of the line. He is there partly because of a change in the social and especially the economic environment which he finds intolerable and partly because of certain flaws in his own character.

In the book, Julian English, while never a very admirable character, was at least a thoroughly understandable one.

In the television play, with its inevitable compression and by the very nature of the beast, the social changes could be only suggested; the emphasis was thrown on Julian English's character which, as I say, was hardly exemplary.

It was a triumph of personal magnetism and acting skill on the part of Robert Montgomery, who played the part, that he could make Julian English at all likeable, at all sympathetic, and he did just that — to my great surprise, I had no idea Montgomery could act that well.

THE BOOK, if memory serves, opens with the terrible remorse of Julian English who had, in a moment of drunkenness, thrown a drink in the face of the town social climber at a country club dance. This apparently trivial happening is really a gesture of protest by English against the crumbling of one set of rather lousy social values and the rise of another equally lousy set.

All the incidents leading to the dissolution of English are, on the surface at least, trivial. He is accused unjustly by his wife of taking a drink he didn't take — so he takes not one but many. He goes off into the night — though not to bed — with the girl of the town bootlegger, a tough cusotmer. He has a fight at the club with several members who disapprove of these things.

Yet each of these occurrences represent grave breaches in the social decorum of the country club set in which he is imprisoned.

IN THE END, his small protests against the order of things drive away his friends, his wife and the one man who could have staved off financial ruin. There is nothing left but suicide. The whole thing takes place in three days — Christmas Eve, Christmas and the day after Christmas — a period noted for merriment but, in reality, almost equally given over to heartbreak.

Mr. Montgomery, I guess, has observed the behavior of drunks very, very carefully. There is always a period when a drunk finds, at the bottom of a glass, what he considers the secret of the universe. His eyes glow with the wonder of it all; his mind works with a formidable and terrifying coherence. Mr. Montgomery, I thought, reproduced this state with terrible accuracy. I've never seen any other actor who even understood it.

IN FACT, the whole cast, especially Margaret Hayes as the beset wife of English, were just exactly right. And a pat on the back is certainly deserved by Irving G. Neiman, the adaptor, who faithfully preserved the spirit of the '30s and who also handled with great care the plot lines of what is essentially a hell of a good story.

Incidentally when the Montgomery theater was first announced, we all thought he'd act in a lot of plays. We've seen very little of him. In fact, with a producer and a director at his disposal, there has been some doubt as to just what his duties were over there, beyond introducing each act. I wish they'd put him to work more often.

How Much Longer? By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

It is now clear from all the evidence that Japan was a defeated nation before the atom bomb was exploded on Hiroshima on August 6, 1945, and had actually made efforts to reach the United States for an armistice through Russia, which was then still a neutral. Japan capitulated on August 14 (V-J Day).

It was the achievement of the American Navy and the Air Force which defeated Japan by destroying her supply lines so that neither food nor raw materials could reach that country.

The bomb was used despite Japan's weakness, the knowledge of which should have been supplied by ordinary military intelligence. An armistice was arranged with Japan about eight days after the bomb was used at Hiroshima, giving Russia about seven days to join our side of the war and to get all the benefits of the Yalta Agreement, an unnecessary concession on our part.

THE SECOND time the possibility of using the A-bomb arose was in September, 1948, when the Russians were trying to force the United States out of Berlin. The story is told in "The Forrestal Diaries," which are still incompletely published and therefore not altogether adequate for historical purposes.

A conference of high brass at the White House on September 13, 1948, found the President a chastened man. He prayed that he would never again have to make such a decision as he did concerning dropping an unnecessary A-bomb on Hiroshima after the Japanese had been defeated.

If this was done for experimental purposes, it was the most dastardly act in modern history. It is only forgivable on the basis of incompetent intelligence.

Apparently Truman was a very troubled man about it.

FORRESTAL joined a meeting at the home of Philip Graham of the "Washington Post," on September 14, 1948, to discuss what American public opinion would be if it became necessary to use the A-bomb against Berlin.

The following newspapermen were present:

Arthur H. Sulzberger, Geoffrey Parsons, Walter Annenberg, Paul Bellamy, Paul Miller, Mark Ethridge, Roy Roberts, John Cowles, Wright Bryan, William Mathews, Secretary Lovett and Mr. Bohlen were others in attendance.

-:-

IN FORRESTAL'S account none of these gentlemen objected to the use of the A-bomb on Berlin.

In fact, he reported:

"Unanimous agreement that in the event of war the American people would not only have no question as to the propriety of the use of the atomic bomb, but would in fact expect it to be used.

"There were many statements to the effect that the opinion of the country was substantially ahead of Washington in its impatience with the Soviet government.

"None present expressed any desire for war — in fact, as was to be expected, quite the contrary, but there was strong evidence of a growing distaste for the actions of Russia."

For some time thereafter, Forrestal systematically questioned men on the subject of the use of the bomb. John Foster Dulles is reported to have said:

"The American people would execute you if you did not use the bomb in the event of war."

OF COURSE, the bomb was never used. The Berlin Airlift called the Russian bluff and we won the only victory that has come to us since the cold war started in 1945 at Yalta, even before World War II came to an end.

It is impossible to believe that no one has brought up the question of using the A-bomb during the Korean War. If a conference was called to consider this question, it has not been reported.

We have lost the Korean War without employing our best weapons to win it. According to Generals MacArthur and Van Fleet, victory was never desired or intended.

Public opinion of the use of the A-bomb in the wars which Russia makes on the Western world, it is not possible to gauge.

WHEREAS in 1948, the Russian problem was understood only by a few fanatical "outsiders," in 1953, a fear of Russia's power permeates the great men of most countries.

That fear is due to their own errors, particularly the one unforgivable historic error of giving an enemy time to build offensive weapons, permitting the enemy to hold the initiative.

The question arises, how many Americans have to be killed before we use our weapons on the enemy?

The New Y—

A Top Community Asset

Of course it can be taken for granted that success is assured in the campaign starting today for the balance of funds required to pay for Marion's new YMCA building.

Summarized, the circumstances making it necessary to raise $148,500 additional to cover the cost of the fine modern building, its site and its furnishings and equipment, can come under one head—"The Korean War."

The war, starting shortly after the original YMCA building campaign took place, brought with it rapidly rising building and equipment costs. At the same time the government set up building restrictions which prevented speedy receiving of bids and letting of contracts for the new Y.

The result is easy to see and understand. Cost of construction was unavoidably forced above pre-war estimates and the fund originally subscribed in 1950 became inadequate. Also, the subscriptions in 1950 had fallen $40,000 short of the campaign goal and that amount is included in the $148,500 deficit which the campaign starting today is intended to wipe out.

Marion being the city of pride and progress that it is—one that meets its obligations promptly and in full—will run true to form as usual and eliminate the Y fund deficit.

This situation is one which could not have been avoided and which has its parallel in thousands of other communities throughout the country. Yes, almost countless building projects, both public and private, have run into the same problems of mounting costs in the last few years. In virtually all cases the building needs were so urgent that additional funds have been provided without question or delay.

And so it must be with the new YMCA. That this community, with its rapid expansion and promise of continued growth in the years ahead, most urgently needs a modern and much larger YMCA, is recognized by all. Supplying this need could not have been held off longer without jeop-

H-Bomb Aftereffects

By Michael Amrine

Destruction of All Human Life Conceivable

Increased attention is being paid by scientists in private discussions to the radioactivity thrown into the air by each burst of an atomic bomb.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, perhaps the world's greatest authority on measuring extremely amounts of radioactivity in the air, recently reported to a national meeting of physicists that at the time of the reported hydrogen-bomb experiments in the Pacific last fall, there was an increase in the amount of one kind of heavy hydrogen in the air in his laboratory in Chicago.

He did not mention the hydrogen bomb, nor did he mention Eniwetok, the bomb-proving ground in the Pacific, and he did not say the fact that the amount of tritium in the air proved conclusively that a hydrogen bomb had been exploded.

In Utah, the well-known physicist, Lyle B. Borst, who worked for years with the Manhattan District bomb project and the Atomic Energy Commission, recently said that the atomic radiation which citizens are accumulating in Western states some day might mean the difference between life and death in the event of atomic attack.

Borst revealed that after a bomb explosion in Nevada and a rainstorm in Utah, he ran a geiger counter over his children's hands and found they had picked up radioactivity in the Borst back yard. "I would not let a technician leave my laboratory with hands as 'hot' as my children were bringing in from play," he said.

There is a difference between a child picking up some mild radioactivity, and an atomic-laboratory worker picking up the same amount, for the worker has to think of receiving it day after day, and the effect may be cumulative.

But Borst reasons that something of the same thing applies to people in states near the bomb explosions. If there was an atomic war and a bomb was dropped, people who already had received some measure of radiation would not be in as good shape to receive an additional shot of radiation from the enemy bomb.

He reasons, "there will be people somewhere o nthe fringe for whom the difference between life and death will not be the amount of radiation from the bomb, but the amount of radiation they have previously absorbed."

Not many scientists have spoken out on the possible effects of bomb tion effects are cumulative.

Sceintists suggest privately, however, that just as the Army Corps of Engineers in the Southern States publishes daily or even hourly readings on the height of the Mississippi River, the Atomic Engergy Commission should publish immediately radiation levels over the U.S. after bomb bursts.

The Salt Lake City Desert News suggests, "when an atomic cloud passes over any area, Civil Defense organizations could immediately call a full-dress rehearsal for the public, just as though a cloud of dangerous intensity were threatening the region as a result of enemy bombing.

"The benefits would be twofold:

"People would learn what to do in case of actual enemy attack, and,

"At the same time, they would be giving themselves the fullest possible protection from whatever real or potential dangers the milder radiation may carry."

Meanwhile, another high official of the government referred, as President Eisenhower did in his inaugural address, to the possibility that super-bombs might exterminate human life on this planet.

In a recent speech, Thomas E. Murray, atomic energy commissioner, spoke of the impression many atomic experts have expressed — that the bomb exploded for civil-defense purposes in Nevada was so small that it gave many citizens the feeling that "the atomic bomb isn't so bad.

He said:

"I cannot emphasize enought that this particular test that you saw on your television last month was but a token of the destructive power this country can now loose in a single nuclear explosion.

"This demonstration was conconnected with such a small-sized explosion thaat, as one wag remarked, it might seem to some that its purpose was to make sure that a nuclear explosion could be made small enough so as not to hurt anyone.

"Had you been with me last fall, out in the Pacific at our testing station at Eniwetok, you would have no doubt that mankind now has within the range of its grasp means to exterminate the human race."

Tough scientists have stated repeatedly that there is no possibility that the hydrogen bomb could blow up the earth, there still is a possibility that its radioactivity might make the air dangerous to human survival.

No Discrimination

It is regrettable the Ohio House of Representatives ditched a proposed amendment to include sex in the list of grounds on which employment shall no tbe refused by employers.

The House of Representatives, having accepted age, in addition to color, race and religion, then would have rounded out its decision to do away with discrimination by law.

It could have pointed with pride to the fact it had outdone all other states and even the advanced thinkers in Washington in the fine art of eliminating intolerance by legal edict.

Moreover, its Republican majority could have claimed with gusto on the stump a year from now that it had gone beyond the call of duty in carrying out the promises of its platform in 1952.

As it is, the task of doing away with discrimination by law has been imperfectly begun. Even if the Ohio Senate goes along with the House and approves FEPC bill, there will be hurt feelings among females, who still can be discriminated against. And nothing in the bill says an employer shall not, under pain of being strung up by his thumbs, refuse employment to an applicant because he does not like the color of his necktie, which is how some of us must have been kept from getting the jobs we wanted.

It is a fine thing to pass a law to rid of discrimination in employment. But it would be an even finer thing to get rid of discrimination in the process of getting rid of discrimination. This continues to be for the most part to be a process of soaping up votes in Cuyahoga County, which is another matter entirely.

Some geologists have decided that Puerto Rico is just the plateau top of a continent under the sea, and this continent is rising out of the depths. For making this portentous announcement, they chose a quiet day, a time when not much was stirring in the news breeze. Nothing, that is, except the assassination of an Iran official; a parley to decide the fate of the Suez Canal; Congress ready to decide who owns off-the-coast oil deposits; Korean truce a step or so nearer; fever heat developing for Germany's elections; General MacArthur urging a threat to bomb Red China; a Senator setting a 22-hour record for a filibuster speech— minor things like that. School children often forget to list Antarctica in naming the present continents, and hear arguments that Australia is really just an island. It would be just like Puerto Rico to rise up, literally and ask to be included.

It is assumed that Murray was talking about the latter possibility.

Diminishing Returns

By Raymond Moley

San Francisco

Our hopes for economy and lower taxes, so bright after the election last November, are, like our Christmas neckties, wrinkled and faded. Before we lay them away, however, let us look at them again.

Are things really as bad as Messrs. Humphrey, Wilson, Byrd, and Taft say they are?

Every morning, like a cold shower, we get a new set of words from these people which mean the same thing: no budget balance in sight, and no tax relief.

I am not as sure as some of those people — whom I respect a great deal — that the two things are inseparable, because sometime in government finance we can get more money with lower tax rates.

The revealing thing to me is that representatives of the administration are constantly talking about how they cannot curb requests for spending very much and seem to be playing down another fact which superficially should be still more alarming — namely, that tax receipts are declining.

Unofficial estimates indicate that revenue collections in this fiscal year will run at least $600 million under the Truman estimate. They will, those sources say, run even less in the next fiscal year.

We must remember that this disappointing yield comes when we are getting the full effect of increased rates. Corporation taxes have fallen short of what was expected.

This decline in corporation payments over last year may in part be due to such circumstances as the steel strike — which the government must now pay for — and perhaps to an excess of authorizations for fast write-offs for industrial expansion. The latter means the permission to build or expand at five-year amortization rates instead of 20 years or so.

However, I suspect that these two factors are not the most important.

More important is the fact that with high profits taxes and excess profits taxes added, there has been such an inducement to extravagance that the old law of diminishing returns has set in. That sort of thing is cumulative because the pressure of excessively high rates stimulates imaginative managers to new methods of spending.

Added to this difficulty which the Treasury faces are the problems with new federal borrowing.

But the men mentioned above are able and are sincere believers in economy, and two of them, Taft and Byrd, are smart politicians.

There may be method in this emphasis on the difficulty in curbing appropriations and it may be that the failure to play up diminishing receipts is political.

A political explanation — and I should say that this is not entirely speculation on my part — is that there is a disposition not to scare the public by the figures on decreasing income from corporations and thus to suppress buying. Such a scare would be a sure way to make things worse.

On the other hand, the pessimistic news about cuts is intended to scare Congress into making more cuts on its own, for after all, it is the membership of the House and not Humphrey and Wilson and Byrd and Taft who must stand for re-election next year.

The strategy is to get very deep cuts in everything outside defense, dispose of appropriation bills, and then recess until late in the fall. Then Congress might return and cut taxes.

This may well be the reason why Republican leadership in Congress is determined to prevent action on tax cuts now.

Daily Bible Thought

If you have to whisper why not keep silence? You can denounce wrong doing openly. "A forward man soweth strife; and a whisperer separateth chief friends."—Prov. 16:28.

CROSSTOWN — By Roland Coe

man at is right hand.

His ex-subordinates in Detroit could have told his present subordinates in the Pentagon how disturbing his slide rule can be. It rests habitually in his center drawer and one of the Pentagon statisticians tells how it works.

"We went in to brief the secretary," he relates. "We had all our charts and papers and had been going about 5 minutes when he looked at us over his glasses, pulled that slide rule out of the drawer and started flipping it back and forth. Then he looked at us again.

" 'Your figures don't prove out,' he said. 'Go work them over and come back here when you're right.'

"That ended the briefing."

The comparisons between Wilson and the man he brought with him are apparent.

The secretary, as one of his military assistants sees it, is "a single-tracker, a mathematically minded man who concentrates on one problem at a time and shakes it to pieces."

Kyes, who is 6 feet 3½ inches tall, weighs 230 pounds and has a build akin to a California redwood is as different temperamentally from Wilson as he is physically. Of him, his Potomac bank subordinates say:

"He's a juggler; he can handle 6 tough problems at once and keep at it until 4 in the morning."

But the two men think as one. A western airplane manufacturer who visited them testified to that. He took first to Kyes a problem of getting into production a new and complicated plane.

A naval officer bears witness to the results of Wilson's art of demolishing a carefully prepared scene with a single tart question. The secretary was being taken through a capital ship.

"Here's something that will please you, sir," the officer said as he threw open a door. "as fine a machine shop as you ever saw."

The secretary looked over the shining machines, and then under them.

"Where's the chips?" he asked laconically.

"The what sir?" the officer asked.

"The chips, the chips," Wilson snapped. "When you run a metal-cutting machine, chips fall on the floor under it. There are no chips. These machines aren't ever used. Why not?"

"hint."

Shortly after taking office he presided over a scheduled conference on foreign military supplies.

As he walked in, he found the conference room jammed with officials, their assistants, their deputies, their secretaries, and their military clerks, all assembled to kibitz on the new team at work. When the meeting ended, Kyes gave a general instruction.

"I would like," he said, "to have everyone pass out this front door. The secretary will take down his or her name, duty assignment and purpose for being at this meeting."

At the next session of the same study group, the audience was halved.

"It didn't used to be this way in the old days," mused one employe nostalgically. "It used to be nice and easygoing around here, until the auto business came to town."

Health From Waste

By Thomas R. Henry

Waste products of atomic-energy reactors — the so-called "mock-fission products" — which now are an expensive waste and nuisance, may prove to be of great value for sterilization of foods at low temperatures.

This is being demonstrated by experiments at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology carried on at the request of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Sterilization of most food products now is achieved only with heat. In some cases, this ruins the flavor.

It long has been known, however, that effective killing of all bacteria and other microorganisms which spoil stored food would be accomplished by emanations from radium or X-rays. In the past, of course, any such procedure has been far too costly for any commercial application.

During the last year, according to the Massachusetts Tech publication, research had been under way on the effects of radiation from radioactive cobalt with different types of food-spoiling organisms. The amount of cobalt used is equivalent to all the radium in the world before 1945. Much the same radiations, however, might be obtained from the atomic-plant waste products.

Special attention has been given to the effects of powerful radiation on flavor, odor and color. There is little doubt that some of these are damaging. At least one novel idea, however, promises to go far in overcoming this drawback, according to an Institute report.

A major accomplishment was the construction of a building in which personnel could work without danger of radiation injury.

The work to date, according to the report, has been purely experimental, but progress has reached the point where a pilot plant on a semi-commercial scale is contemplated. The expense factor has been greatly reduced, since, once a radiation sterilizing chamber is in operation, it continues to work indefinitely on the same initial investment. The cost of getting rid of the products to be used now is considerable.

There is every reason to believe, says the report, that something new and important is being developed for the food industry.

Meteorites Found

SYDNEY (AP)—Two Australian geologists have found small meteorites from a comet which swept close to the earth about 10,000 years ago. The find, biggest concentration of meteorites ever found in Australia, is in an almost inaccessible part of the western Victorian coast. Composed of black natural glass, the meteorites range from one-quarter to two inches in diameter.

Inside Labor

Crime Cleanup

By Victor Riesel

When the labor boys gather in St. Louis this September to declare war on the national crime syndicate, they would do well not to attempt to observe a minute of silence for every union man slugged, shot or bombed into the hereafter in the city made so famous by the Blues.

RIESEL

The AFL convention just wouldn't find time to get started. For in past years there have been 56 unsolved major shootings and murders involving many labor chiefs in the rackets. The mayor would do better by giving the parley the key to these assassinations instead of the key to the city in his welcoming address.

In St. Louis, of all places to meet on such an anti-racketeering project, the AFL leaders will find that labor crime is not just the shame of one city.

IT WOULD behoove the national AFL chiefs not to get so wrapped up in solving the New York waterfront problem that they forget that King Joe Ryan is a penny-ante potentate compared with some of the boys who might be on the welcoming committee there. Or in many another city, for that matter.

Cleaning crime out of labor is a national job which will make cleaning the punks off the piers seem like a half a day's work on a Friday before a three-day holiday week-end.

Take the city of St. Louis, host to the next AFL convention at which were told the Longshoremen's and (AFL) Auto Union charters will be lifted because they didn't dump their indicted racketeers.

For some months now a Federal Grand Jury there has been secretly cross-examining witnesses on data uncovered by a squad of FBI men during a year-long investigation into rackets, bribes, extortion, shakedowns, and terror in construction trades labor.

SINCE BURSTING bombs come and go like good days for the St. Louis Cards, Judge Moore has shut off the grand jury's floor from newsmen. Some time in the coming week, it will hand down 18 indictments.

No one knows who will be hit by the grand jury, but we do know who has been shot and bombed.

There's an Earl Andrews Toole. He died April 23. Gunshot wounds

A BUCK A DAY a man gives Callanan over half a million a year, in addition to the dues. He has been collecting this for over three years, according to the honest labor leaders in St. Louis, who hate him.

Callanan reports to no one we can find. Maybe the grand jury did. His home has been bombed. So has his brother's.

The grand jury decided to look into the Callanans' explosive popularity. They found that the brother, ex-sheriff Thomas F. Callanan, was made the $10,000-a-year director of the union's education and welfare fund.

That's a nice fraternal touch. Tom Callanan became ex-sheriff after the citizenry purged City Hall in a burst of electoral indignation which would do 40 or 50 other metropoliton centers some good. Wipe out the shame, anyway. I sure would like to take a look at the ex-sheriff's "educational program".

I want to add to this record the fact that Larry Callanan, the man who could collect over $1,500,000 in three years in dollar bills from steamfitters, and can spend half of this fortune "for political activity" is listed as an ex-convict by a Kefauver witness.

THE SAME records reveal he was summoned for questioning in the shooting of Timothy Cronin, boss of the AFL Service Car Drivers Union, who was hit by bullets four times on March 3, 1944.

Callanan and a trigger - happy hood called Blacky Armes also were invited in for grilling in the murder of William (Dinty) Colbeck. Dinty tried to move in on East St. Louis pinball and slot machine rackets. Later Blacky served tradition well. He got it in the head on Dec. 13, 1944.

Yet all this is but a sliver section of the record in just one city. The story is the same in a score of others.

This will take a national probe by a national AFL anti-rackets committee. The New York waterfront must be only the beginning!

Harrison, Clark Confer in Tokyo

MUNSAN (AP)—United Nations Command leaders conferred in Tokyo today as the Korean truce talks hung suspended in the second day of a three-day recess.

Communist and Allied negotiators meet again Wednesday at nearby Panmunjom on the deadlocked prisoner exchange issue.

The chief Allied delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., arrived in Tokyo Sunday for a meeting with Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander.

The U. N. Command said only that it demanded the recess for administrative purposes. However, observers noted it could allow time for consultations with Allied nations on the stymied prisoner exchange discussion.

(The Reds Peiping radio today charged the U. S. with bad faith "in the open overthrowing of the basis of negotiations just as an armistice seemed imminent." India, Britain and Canada have criticized the U. N. Command position in the prisoner exchange issue.)

Zinc was known as a component of brass long before its existence as an individual metal was suspected.

Army Substitutes Dextran for Plasma

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has switched from blood plasma to dextran, a substance made from sugar, for all its requirements at home and abroad.

A major reason for the change, said an Army medical source Saturday, is that some plasma causes hepatitis, a jaundice-like ailment, and dextran does not.

The Army official emphasized, however, that public donations are still vitally needed for other uses.

He said the switch frrom plasma to dextran was made after "utterly convincing" tests.

MRS. EDWARD M. DUNN

Simpson-Dunn Vows Spoken In St. Mary Church

On Tuesday morning, May 12, at 10 o'clock, Miss Mary Elizabeth Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Simpson, 369 S. Greenwood St., became the bride of Edward M. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dunn, of near Mt. Gilead.

The nuptial high mass was performed by the Rev. Father Thomas Lowery at St. Mary Catholic Church.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by three attendants, gowned in white nylon tulle over madonna blue taffeta. Their dresses featured shell-tucked bodices, and bouffant waltz-length skirts inserted with blue satin ribbon extending to a bow at the back. Their shoulders were covered with attached stoles of nylon tulle.

Petaled head bands and matching mitts completed their ensembles.

The bride's sister, Miss Ruth Ann Simpson, attended as maid of honor. Mrs. James Stephens of Port Clinton, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Grace Lombardo of Marion, were bridesmaids.

Guests were seated by ushers, Neil Simpson, the bride's brother of Kenton, and Don Coffey, the bridegroom's brother - in - law, of Dayton. Charles Dunn , sousin of the bridegroom, of Marion, served as best man.

The long sleeves extended to points over her hands. Small covered buttons fastened the fitted bodice, and the folds of the coat parted to reveal a panel of matching applique nylon tulle.

A coronet of pearls held her fingertip length veil of illusion. The traditional custom of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a sixpence in her shoe, was carried out.

The wedding reception took place at The Trees where the centerpiece was a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Ed Simpson of Pasadena, Calif., Mrs. Neil Simpson of Kenton, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Dilts, of Forest.

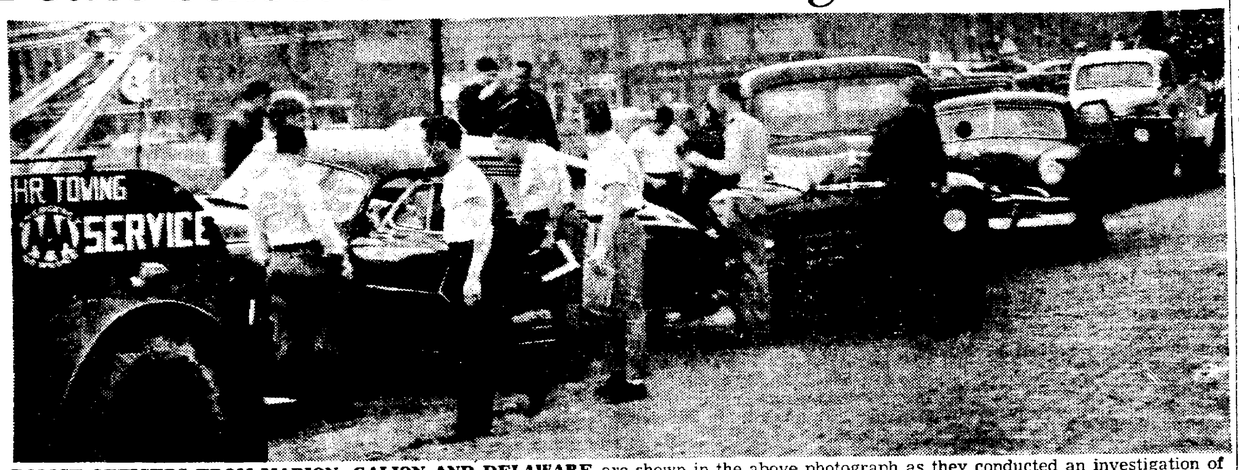
Sharpen Up Shooting on New Marion Training School Range

Police School to Close With Target Practice



POLICE OFFICERS FROM MARION, GALION AND DELAWARE are shown in the above photograph as they conducted an investigation of a staged "three-car accident" on Campbell St. The car surrounded by police is one "knocked" over the curb and into a telephone pole by the truck behind it. The truck in turn was struck by the car at the far left in the picture. This third car was "driven by a drunk driver."

The object was to determine how the accident happened and to locate the drunk driver who "skipped out" after the collision.

A "bang-up wind-up" of a 12-week long police training school sponsored by the Marion police department is scheduled today and Tuesday.

Some 40 policemen from Marion, Galion, and Delaware are attending the final two days of classes today at the Marion Training School.

On a newly completed pistol and rifle target range on the school grounds, the policemen are sharpening up their shooting ability. Firing from numerous positions and distances of 25-, 40-, and 60-yards, their object is to place as many slugs as possible in a life-size silhouette of a man.

Marion Police Chief Tom Coon said a total of some 7,000 pistol rounds—6,000 fired by members of his department—and hundreds of rounds of machine-gun, rifle, and shot-gun ammunition will be fired during the two-day shoot.

Largest portion of the ammunition will be fired from police special 38 caliber pistols, with smaller amounts from sub - machine guns, rifles, and shotguns.

Others Attending

Other law enforcement officers attending the school from Marion in addition to members of the police department include guards from the Training School, state highway patrol officers, and Special Agent Gene Hubbard of the FBI who is serving as instructor during the two-day session.

Last classroom session of the police training school was also instructed by Hubbard last Friday. Topic of the session was "Fundamentals of Firearms and Gun Safety Rules."

Beginning last Feb. 23, the curriculum of the school has included instruction in crime scene search instruction in crime scene search, testifying in court, traffic enforcement, interpretation of Ohio motor vehicle laws and rules of the road, problems of arrest, gathering evidence, public relations, traffic accident and hit-skip investigations and others.

Accident Investigation

The class on traffic accident and hit-skip investigations included a faked three-car accident set-up on Campbell St.

Three wrecked cars were used in setting the stage for the "accident." One of the cars was "reported" driven by a drunk driver who crashed into the rear of a parked truck with sufficient force to cause it to crash into the car ahead of it. The third car was knocked over the curb by the truck and jammed against a telephone pole.

"Owner" of one of the cars, Police Capt. Clyde Hardin, told the "circumstances of the accident." Driver of the car which crashed into the rear of the truck was drunk, he said, and after the crash went staggering off.

Object of the officers was to determine exactly how the accident occurred, correlate Hardin's story, and locate the "drunk driver."

While this particular phase of the training school was hampered somewhat by an unexpected rain which caught the "investigating officers" in their shirt sleeves, Chief Coon said the school as a whole has been a complete success.

Instructors for various classes have included Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen, City Solicitor George A. Piacentino, Chief Coon, Hubbard, Special Agent Richard Shimer, FBI, Police Captain Hardin, Patrolman Z. G. McClenathan, and Cpl. D. M. DeWalt, Ohio State Highway patrol.

All those attending the school will be issued diplomas on their "graduation," Chief Coon said.

Snow falls in June in Australia, and Christmas can be so hot that bathing beaches are crowded.

Gardner, a graduate of Ashland College, succeeds Norman J. Spitzer. For the past year he has been athletic coach at the school. His salary will be $4,600 a year, a $500 increase over the amount paid Spitzer, whose contract was not renewed by a 3-2 vote of the board.

Teachers returning next year will receive $300 annual increases. A contract has been tendered to William Bronson, who will graduate next month at Ashland College, as mathematics and science teacher. Other vacancies include the home economics and girls' physical education post and an industrial arts teacher.

4 Injured In Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Ten Accidents Over Week End Reported By State Patrolmen

Four persons were slightly injured in ten accidents over wet and slippery highways in this area Saturday and Sunday, state patrolmen reported today.

Mrs. John Gray of near Prospect was treated by a Prospect physician for cracked ribs, bruises and shock and released following an accident Saturday at 6 p. m. on Route 257, one-half mile south of Prospect.

Her car was demolished when it went out of control and turned over on the east side of the road. She was traveling south. The car struck a mailbox and some young trees belonging to Ruffus Hughes of near Prospect and a General Telephone Co. pole, breaking it off.

She was taken to the physician by a passing motorist.

Three cars were damaged in an accident Sunday at 6:10 p.m., on Route 42, one-half mile north of Williamsport in Morrow County.

Cars driven by Dorothy Shaner, 29, of Akron and Roy Cunningham, 19, of Mogadore, O., were both stopped, facing north, for a partially disabled truck outfit which extended onto the road, when a car operated by Lee Gillis, 36, of Cleveland slid into the rear of the Cunningham auto.

The front end of the Gillis auto was extensively damaged, the front and back ends of the Cunningham auto were extensively damaged to the rear end of the Shaner car.

Gillis was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace Alvin Spriggs of Mt. Gilead on a charge of reckless operation.

Richard Patrick, 24, of Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, sustained a laceration of his right eyebrow which didn't require treatment when his car went out of control and overturned on Route 23, one and one-half mile north of Upper Sandusky Saturday at 5:55 p.m.

His northbound car, which left the road on the east side, damaged some fence belonging to George Cordray of near Upper Sandusky. The car was extensively damaged in the front end, left side and top.

Considerable damage to the top and entire right side of a car driven by James J. Smith, 25, of

Ohio Girl, 14, Defies Police, Threatens Leap From Bridge

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP)—Welfare authorities plan psychiatric tests this week for 14-year-old Phyllis Davis, who defied police for two hours as she threatened to jump 80 feet into the Ohio River from a bridge girder.

The confused eighth grader finally let police hoist her to safety Sunday after talking with a school principal and a minister.

Traffic was snarled for blocks as hundreds of spectators lined the river banks and stopped cars on busy U. S. 30 which crosses the bridge.

Rigby Mast, Columbiana County welfare director, said he would put the girl in a foster home, pending mental examinations in Youngstown State Hospital.

your hearts today," he said, "and I trust God will guide and speak wisdom to you."

In his talk on the history of the congregation in Marion, Lenavitt said the first Jewish organization in Marion was a Council of Jewish Women organized in 1886 with a total of 13 members. By 1910 this organization had grown to include some 20 members and four families. Later it became the Ladies Aid Society in 1905 and in 1913 became the Temple Aid Society

Congregation Formed

The organization was first called the Marion Congregation of Israel in 1921, he said. In the early years of its organization, the Congregation met in the homes of various members.

In 1910, a temple hall was located in the Pythians Hall. In 1919 the temple was located in what is now the Eagles Building, and in 1933, the Congregation moved to rooms above the Midway Restaurant. Another move to rooms above W. T. Grant store came in 1940 where the Congregation remained until it purchased the former Owens' estate at 390 E. Center St. Sale of that property to Albers Supermarkets a few weeks ago was made after trustees of the congregation decided a new and larger Temple was needed, Lenavitt reported.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held April 26 with S. G. Kleinmaier — oldest surviving member of the original congregation —turning the first shovelful of dirt.

3 Injured In Accidents On City Streets

13 Accidents In Week-End Traffic Reported by Police

Three persons were slightly injured in three of 13 traffic accidents investigated over the week end by Marion police.

Mrs. Mary Fouts of 484 Cherry St. received a bruised forehead when a car driven by her husband, Clark M. Fouts, and another car collided at S. Main and Church Sts. at 5:41 p.m. Sunday. She required no medical treatment. Both cars weer traveling west on Silver St. and both were damaged, police sai. Coykendall's car struck the rear of Milbee's car, police reported.

Driver of the other car was Thomas J. Ballinger, 18, of 741 N. Main St. who was traveling east on W. Church St. Both his car and the car driven by Fouts, which was westbound on E. Church St., were damaged, police reported.

Mrs. Margaret Milbee was hurt slightly in a collision at Silver and Oak Sts. at 12:15 a.m. Sunday. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Mason B. Milbee, 45, of 450 Lee St. when it and a car driven by Alva W. Coykendall of 507 Silver St. collided. She required no medical treatment.

James F. Jackson, 25, of 274 N. State St. received an injured hand when he drove his car across the southeast corner of the Marion City Hospital grounds at 5:10 a. m. Sunday and truck a utility pole.

Police said Jackson was headed east on Superior and evidently turned too sharply at the corner and drove across the lawn. He was treated at the hospital for his injury but was not admitted. The front end of his car was damaged and shrubbery, sod, and the utility pole were also damaged, police said.

Four Cars In Collision

Four cars were involved in a pileup at N. Main and Hazen Sts. at 4:16 p.m. Sunday.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Floyd E. Arnold, 18, of Washington C. H., struck the rear of a car driven by Margene V. Polsdorfer, 18, of Toledo. The impact forced her car foreward into the rear of another car driven by Jack C. Hill, 23, of 178½ N. Main St. and it in turn was forced forward into the rear of a fourth car driven by Daniel Burtong, 21,

Plane Crashes During Texas Storm, 19 Die

Woman Is Sole Survivor, Relates Harrowing Details

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP)—A DC3 twin-engine transport plane tumbled "over and over" into a storm-lashed East Texas piney woods yesterday, killing 19 persons.

One woman survived.

The crash of the Delta-Chicago — Southern airliner 13 miles east of here happened moments after the pilot, Douglas Volk, 33, Atlanta, had asked the Shreveport, La., airport control tower for routine landing instructions. He indicated no difficulty.

Mrs. J. W. Cox of Panama City, Fla., was the only one to live. She did not know how.

"We ran into a terrific rainstorm, and I dozed off," she said in the Marshall Hospital last night. "When I woke up, the plane was turning over and over and everyone was screaming. The next thing I remember was coming to in a puddle of water with a dying man beside me."

Mrs. Cox was in a semiconscious condition with a serious head injury, a broken leg and shock. Doctors said she had a good chance to live. She was reported resting well late last night. Her husband arrived here.

Searchers found two other women alive. The stewardess, Jo Anne Carlson, 25, Chicago, died on her way to the hospital. A young mother died a short time later.

"I don't see how anyone survived," said Millard Cope, publisher of the Marshall News Messenger.

Only a short section of fuselage near the tail was intact. The plane went down near the Texas-Louisiana border one mile south of U. S. Highway 80.

Mrs. Cox was on her way from Albuquerque, N. M., to Jackson, Miss., to join her husband. She said the two planned to take a vacation in Florida before he was sent overseas for Air Force Duty.

Bank just one and one-half hours earlier.

The sheriff found the car three miles south of Dunkirk on the Range-Line Road. It had been reported stolen sometime between 9 a.m. and 12 noon by Rollin Detwiler of Kenton.

Sheriff Brown thinks the car was used by a young man brandishing a shotgun who robbed the bank of $4,600 and escaped. The bandit is still at large.

Cashier Frank Kern, 47, said the man, apparently about 30, walked into the Dunkirk branch at noon.

"This is a holdup," he said calmly, showing his shotgun.

Kern and his wife, Helen, were the only persons in the bank at the time. The man made Kern fill a bag with all the currency in the counter drawer and then forced him to the vault where he loaded $800 to $90 in silver into the bag.

"This silver is going to be too heavy to carry," said Kern.

"That's all right. You're going to carry it. You're going to walk out of here with me and I'll let you out when we get out in the country about two miles."

But Mrs. Kern broke in. She told the man her husband had been ill and could not carry such a heavy load.

The armed robber compromised. He made Kern carry the bag to the bank's back door, where he grabbed it and disappeared.

Kern said he did not know by what means the man escaped.

Kern didn't seem to be upset too much during a telephone interview.

"This is the second time for me," he said. "I was held up back in 1948 or 1949, I'm not sure which."

The cashier has been with the Dunkirk branch about 11 years.

He described the robber as about 30, tall, brown hair, dressed in short jacket and slacks, calm, well-spoken and completely the professional bank robber.

Dunkirk is 10 miles north of Kenton in Hardin County.

Stevens Starts New Clothing Collection

Ora Stevens, Courthouse janitor who was collecting clothes for Korean orphans in March and was instrumental in obtaining a sewing machine for Mrs. Maude Rambo in April, has started on a May project.

This time he is aiming for 2,000 pounds of clothes to be sent to Korea.

Assisting in getting the clothes to Korea is the local Navy Club which has enlisted the aid of Capt. L. L. Merritt of the Columbus Naval Air Station. Capt. Merritt has offered to see that the clothes are flown to the West Coast if at least 2,000 pounds are collected.

The Navy Club is still negotiating for means to get the clothes from the West Coast to Korea.

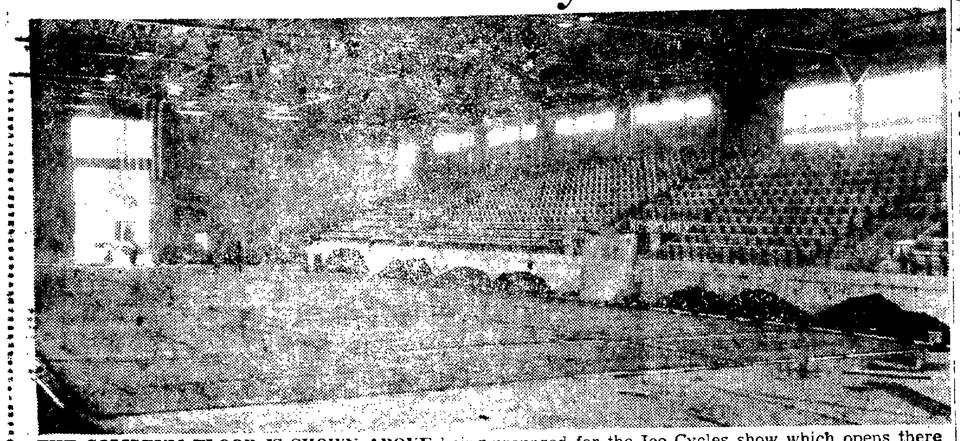
Portable "Ice Cycles" Rink Installed

Coliseum Made Ready for Ice Show



THE COLISEUM FLOOR IS SHOWN ABOVE being prepared for the Ice Cycles show which opens there Wednesday night. Coils used for freezing the ice can be seen covering nearly all of the Coliseum floor. Ice Cycles will play here through Sunday.

When the "Ice Cycles of 1953" performers open a five day engagement here Wednesday at the Coliseum, they will be skating on the show's new quarter-million-dollar ice rink used for the first time a week ago in Canton.

Daphne (Dee) Poli, publicist of the show, said it is the largest portable ice unit in the world. It will be longer by 60 feet than any previously used here. It measures 60 by 140 feet.

Installation of equipment, which began here on Thursday, is the most elaborate ever attempted in the Coliseum, according to Frank Foster, chairman of the Coliseum board of governors, which is sponsoring the show.

To form the ice rink, some nine miles of refrigeration coils were placed on the dirt floor of the Coliseum and then covered with sawdust and a layer of sand. Then brine was pumped through the pipes, gradually cooling from 70 degrees to below freezing. When cold enough for freezing, water is sprayed on the floor, which turns to ice. This spraying process is repeated until the ice is of sufficient depth.

Thirty-two "black light" units are being placed on the overhead catwalks of the building for one special number. Special wiring is being installed by the show for 12,200-watt "down-spots," similar to those in the Cleveland Arena.

In addition Ice Cycles is having color frames made especially for the 1,000-watt auditorium ceiling lights so that the entire building may become a mass of color.

Ten high-intensity spotlights are being shipped to Marion for this show, Miss Poli, said. The spots, the type used in large arenas including New York's Madison Square Garden, cost $1,000 each and will throw a beam of light from one corner of the building to the other, according to Miss Poli.

Dash lights, costing $14,000 will be installed as a border to the ice rink, and nine miles of pipe will be used in the rink.

The huge rink will cover almost the entire floor of the Coliseum, with the exception of some 30 feet at one end where an elevated ramp for chair seats will be installed for extra seating.

Miss Poli gave these other statistics on the size of the show equipment:

Fifty-ton compressors are used to create the frozen floor surface.

Six 32-foot trailers are required to move the show equipment; the new vehicles are the most modern available with all-aluminum, fluted sides.

Forty-seven aluminum crates, measuring 6 by 5 by 3 feet are required to carry the costumes. Thirty aluminum crates, 8½ by 6 by 5 feet, are used to carry the props and scenery.

An intercommunicating system of telephones is installed by the show so that contact may be made with the various spotlight operators from the show's central control board.

Jet Strike Ends At Evendale

CINCINNATI (AP)—The long, costly production strike at the General Electric Co. plant at Evendale ended Sunday midnight as the third shift walked through plant gates—free of pickets for the first time since March 14.

GE spokesmen said they expected a resumption of nearby normal operations shortly after all 5,600 workers were back on the job.

Members of two AFL and CIO union locals ended the 65 - day strike by voting to accept contract settlement terms offered by the company at meetings last week. Union leaders conceded they were not too pleased with the final terms, although they cited "Major improvements reached in the closing stages of negotiations."

The unionists are to receive a six-to-eight-cent hourly hike above the pre-strike wage scale of $1.51 to $2.33½ an hour. It was reported they had asked for 12 to 16 cents more an hour.

Miss Poli reported that another attractive and unusual feature of the preparation of the ice rink at the Coliseum is the painting of the ice floor after it is frozen to required thickness. An artist specially trained for this purpose, Ed Pierce, travels ahead of the opening of the show. He will "paint" the ice the day before opening. First he sprays a snow-white chemical over the entire ice surface which causes the ice to sparkle and glisten with thousands of minute sparkles. Along the outer edges he carefully paints a design-border in various shades of pink for added attractiveness. When his artistic design is completed, then the ice floor is once again sprayed lightly to form a thin frozen coating over the entire design so the ice blades do not cut into or disturb the art work on ice.

Ice Cycles, sister show of Ice Capades, will be at the Coliseum from Wednesday evening through Sunday evening, May 20th through 24th, with a matinee on Sunday. Evening performances are at 8:30 with matinee at 3 p.m.

Agriculture Dept. To Cite Ex-Marionite

A former Marion resident, Jerald E. Miller of Marietta, will receive a special award from the Department of Agriculture Tuesday.

Miller is the Farmers' Home Administration supervisor for Washington, Athens and Morgan Counties. He will receive the award from Ezra T. Benson, United States secretary of agriculture, in Washington. The award is being made in recognition of Miller's "service of unusual value beyond that ordinarily required in the performance of duty." It will mark the first time an Ohioan has ever received the superior service award.

Miller has held his present post since 1935. Prior to his work with the FHA, he was manager of the Marion County Livestock Cooperative Association in Marion.

Mr. Miller was born and raised on a farm near Caledonia. His father, M. G. Miller still resides there.

PTA Defends United Nations

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Newton P. Leonard of Providence, R. I., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, praised the nation's PTA's today for accepting "the responsibility of interpreting the United Nations and UNESCO against the mounting tide of criticism."

Mrs. Leonard, in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening convention, said the association has promised to support school programs which "would help young Americans learn the languages of other nations."

Some 3,000 delegates swarmed into Oklahoma City for the three-day convention.

CROWN CAVALCADE — The PREDECESSORS of ELIZABETH II

No. 25: Charles I. Ruled England, Ireland and Scotland, 1625-1649.

Born: 1600, second son of James I and Anne of Denmark. Succeeded his father. One historian says Charles was "the worthiest of gentlemen, the best master, the best friend, the best husband, the best father and the best Christian that the age in which he lived produced." However, he had opponents who regarded him as a liar, a double-dealing villain, and tyrant. Like his father, he was a firm believer in the divine right of kings and dissolved four Parliaments in four years because they would not yield to his demands. For eleven years thereafter he ruled without a Parliament, to his misfortune. The men who wanted a constitutional government were not to be denied it. Led by Oliver Cromwell they overwhelmed Charles' forces through a series of military coups, and in 1649, brought him to trial as a traitor. To many he appeared a martyr when he died on the scaffold (see above) and he was mourned. Under the rule of Cromwell, who refused the crown, but in effect occupied the throne for the next nine years, England's influence and world prestige reached new heights. The reign of law and order, civil and religious liberty which Cromwell established was remarkable for the time.

Winter Weather Has Gone, Now for a Parfait

Sometimes it seems that spring never will come, but sooner or later, come it does. You can put away your tired winter coat. You can saunter out in that flowery hat you've been yearning to wear for so long. And then, since all this calls for celebration, you can mark the occasion by serving this decorative dessert.

A harmony of perfectly blended tastes in the beige-to-brown scale, with coffee ice cream, toasted almonds, taste-tingling butterscotch sauce, this coffee-almond parfait is easy to make, too. As gay and luscious as a spring dessert should always be, it's a perfect way to celebrate.

COFFEE-ALMOND PARFAIT

Ingredients: 1 pint coffee ice cream, ½ cup chopped toasted almonds, butterscotch sauce, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

Method: Fill four parfait glasses with alternating layers of ice cream, almonds, sauce and whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, ¼ cup light cream, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup, 3 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Combine brown sugar, cream, corn syrup and butter in deep saucepan. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil without stirring 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla; cool. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

WSCS at Waldo Installs Officers

Group singing which opened the meeting was followed by two readings by Mrs. Temple and Mrs. R. D. Keller.

During the business meeting, the new officers were urged to attend the Officers Training Day to be held at Kenton on May 26. The group also voted to send two girls to Lakeside Girls Training School in June.

Mrs. Douglas read the Scripture and Mrs. Howald conducted prayer. The installation and pledge service was conducted by the Rev. Robert Fichter. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Donovan McKinney, Mrs. Lester Howald, Mrs. Robert Fichter and Mrs. Vinton Porterfield, sang. "Give Of Your Best To The Master" and "A Charge To Keep Have I."

Albert Einstein said it. We didn't ask him, but I doubt if he'd mind if we pass along the message to you: "Sometimes one pays most for the things one gets for nothing."

Earl J. Andrews

Since Einstein isn't here, I don't know for certain just what things he meant. But, he could have been thinking about the thrill of taking a big chance, such as UNINSURED hazards.

Admittedly, many people get no pleasure out of buying an insurance policy. It isn't something tangible like a new coat, car or home. You can't eat it (without risk of indigestion.) Also, many others are even unhappy thinking about the possibility of fire, theft or accident.

As a result, some people DO put off buying the insurance they need. The worst of it is, quite a number FIND OUT too late that they do need it.

Then the things they get for nothing are: trouble, court claims, bad losses, mounting bills, lawsuits and NO MONEY with which to meet these obligations.

So reconsider. Maybe YOU will pay TOO DEARLY for the things you get for nothing.

Let us design an Insurance program you can AFFORD!

Hemophilia Is Constant Death Threat to Oklahoma Twins, 4

SAYRE, Okla. (AP)—Four-year-old Wayne Moses, suffering from an incurable blood disease, won another battle for survival this week after 17 transfusions during the past two months.

Wayne and his twin brother Gene are victims of hemophelia, a rare disease which prevents blood from clotting normally. A cut on the finger, a small bruise or a sharp blow will start a hemorrhage which can result in a major crisis in the youngsters' life.

Every precaution is taken to guard the boys from nicks or scratches. They drink from rubber glasses, eat out of plastic plates.

"I guard them at all times,' said their mother, Mrs. Sol Moses, who estimates they have had about 50 transfusions each during their young lives.

"When they go out to play I'm always there to supervise. I even had to put beaver board over their bedroom windows to prevent them from cutting themselves.

"We never use knives at our dining room table. We cut our food with a fork or just pull it apart with our fingers.'

The boys' father explained the transfusions they get vary from a half to a full pint.

Mrs. Moses said the twins, who will be 5 in August, are old enough now to realize they are "bleeders.' But she added they forget very quickly when at play.

Justice Dept. Indicts 6 For Job Selling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six persons, including two Negro Republican leaders, have been indicted in a Justice Department crackdown on federal job selling in Georgia.

Atty. Gen. Brownell, in announcing the indictments, said they were made by a federal grand jury in Savannah after he ordered an investigation last April 2.

Such a practice, Brownell said, will "not be tolerated anywhere by anyone." He said he will seek the maximum penalty in each case.

The six named by Brownell: Tom C. Williams of Waycross, Negro chairman of the Republican committee for Georgia's Eighth Congressional District; Isaac J. White of Blackshear, Negro Republican chairman of Pierce County; Wilson Truett Tuten of Bristol; Henry Grady Smith of Jesup; Chestnut A. Thompson of Jesup, and James M. Kent of St. Simons.

Voice Farm Price Opinions

Crawford Co. Farmers Oppose Outside Help

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Crawford County farmers, at a farm-price discussion rally held Thursday night at Sulphur Springs School, east of here, voted 4-1 for some government support program but at the same time went on record as favoring "farmers doing all they can for themselves to get 100 per cent of parity before going to the government for help."

Fifty of those present voted for some government price support program while 13 opposed it and five were undecided. Sixty farmers went on record for the farmers attempting to obtain parity prices on their own before seeking government aid while four opposed this plan and five were undecided.

Concerning the decline of farm prices, 48 farmers expressed worry over the situation, 18 were not worried by the price drop and four had no opinion.

Twenty-seven farmers indicated Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson was doing an adequate job while eight were not pleased with his work and 24 others were undecided. The voting group included 50 farmers and five urban residents.

The meeting was one of a series being held throughout the state under Farm Bureau sponsorship to discuss declining farm prices.

Speakers included Harry F. Fauser, Bucyrus, chairman of the county Production and Marketing Administration; Lester Ross of near Galion, chairman of the county dairy service unit; Burton Honsberger of near Lykens, a prominent cattle and hog farmer; Alan Dull, manager of the Bucyrus branch of the Producers' Livestock Cooperative, Glen Brause, Liberty Township battle farmer, and Park Stuckman, county Farm Bureau cooperative president.

Union Membership Nearly 17 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor union membership now totals 16½ to17 millions—an increase of between one-half to three million since 1949.

These figures in a Department of Labor director include 9½ million members for the AFL and five million for the CIO, with others scattered in smaller unions.

Estimating union membership is difficult, since some unions refuse to submit any figures. The department takes what data it has to make its estimate.

Since 1949, when union membership was estimated between 14 and 16 millions, Census Bureau statistics show the nation's total labor force grew from 60,814,000 to 61,518,000.

Check Autos For Safety, Patrol Urges

State highway patrol posts across the country are cooperating with the National Safety Council in a May traffic safety campaign. The patrol safety slogan is "Good drivers drive safe cars. Check your car, check accidents."

Cpl. C. M. Dewalt of the Marion post stresses several points for safe driving, including speed consistent with conditions, a constant look-out for children and consideration for the other driver. Speed to suit conditions, ability to stop within a safe distance and keeping the vehicle under control where children are present are the "defensive driving" points being emphasized. Motorists are also advised to get to know their cars . . . to know something of the mechanics of the machine they drive.

Cpl. Dewalt suggested that motorists pay particular attention to brakes, lights, tires, wheel alignment, exhaust system, windshield wipers, glass, rear-view mirror and horn.

British PT Boat Blows Up, 1 Hurt

AARHUS, Denmark (AP)—A violent explosion aboard a British naval motor torpedo boat destroyed the craft and shattered thousands of windows in the port area here yesterday. One sailor was seriously burned and three others received slight injuries.

The P1023's chief stoker, the only serious casualty, reportedly was starting the 50-ton vessel's electrical plant when sparks touched off gasoline fumes in the hold. The vessel was taking part in NATO naval maneuvers.

The World Today

Eisenhower to Explain

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's radio talk to the nation Tuesday night on defense, spending and the budget is coming none too soon.

There is confusion about what the Eisenhower administration is doing to defense, or trying to do. Democrats in Congress are protesting. So are some newspapers.

The administration has not done a good job of explaining its intentions so far. Apparently that is why the President is going on the radio.

In the 1952 presidential campaign the Republicans promised economy, leading to tax cuts. The spending program they have offered Congress is aimed at economy, including economy in national defense.

The unanswered question is: Will this be economy at the price of less defense? Secretary of Defense Wilson said last week his economy program aims at "more effective defense for less money."

Of all the people in this country President Eisenhower ought to know whether the economy he's offering will still provide this country with an adequate defense at home and abroad.

Not everyone is satisfied that this is so. Sen. Symington, Missouri Democrat and former secretary of the Air Force, says Eisenhower is "putting fiscal policies ahead of military strategy."

Symington said the administration has offered "more stretchout, more soothing syrup, more cars, more fat, less muscle."

Until Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, spoke at a luncheon here Friday, there was a certain amount of national puzzlement that went something like this:

Since the administration wants to cut defense spending, and actually plans a smaller Air Force than previously supposed necessary, was it acting on some secret information that Russia is now less a menace than it was a year or two years ago?

If the answer was "yes," the Eisenhower defense reduction would be more easily understood. But Bradley, in one of the best positions to know, said he knew nothing in the world situation to warrant cutting the rearmament program.

In that speech, with Wilson in the audience, Bradley cautioned against "putting economy ahead of security." Bradley, soon to be retired, said he was not aiming at Wilson's economy drive.

In cutting defense spending, it seems safe to say, the Eisenhower administration is taking a calculated risk that Russia is not going to strike any time soon.

Absence of Russian belligerency in recent months must be a factor in the Eisenhower thinking. For, if Russia at this moment was massing its armies and air forces, Eisenhower undoubtedly would be calling for more defense spending instead of less.

If this is a valid assumption then the Russians have accomplished more by being nice than by being tough.

While Stalin was alive, snorting fire and defiance, this country's defenses were increasing. With Stalin dead and the new Russian leadership mumbling peace, this country's defense spending is starting down.

A ship must use a longer anchor chain in rough weather than in calm weather to allow for ship movement.

Boy Runs Away To Keep His Dog

WHIPPANY, N. J. (AP)—James, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hull, left home Saturday with his dog Shep because he heard that his parents wanted to dispose of the animal. The neighbors had complained Shep was a nuisance.

Police found the pair yesterday sitting beside Route 46, near Parsippany. James told a story of hitchhiking to Scranton, Pa., and then riding a bus back, but police were inclined to doubt it.

Anyway, the story has a happy ending: James gets to keep the dog.

Budget Cuts Begin to Be Felt in Ohio

Govt. Pares Down Hospital, Airport, Flood Control Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bit by bit, effects of the Eisenhower administration's efforts to cut the budget still further are being felt in Ohio.

Here are some results of the administration's budget revisions:

Cancellation of plans to construct an eight million dollar jet engine research laboratory at the Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory in Cleveland.

Expected shut down of the Public Health Service's Marine hospital in Cleveland.

Washing out any more funds for federal airport aid — including money to improve Port Columbus at the state capital and to help build a new airport near Portsmouth.

Indefinite postponement of Agriculture Department flood control work in the Scioto River Watershed.

Now the House Appropriations Committee has taken another whack—out of the budget requests of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The cut that may hurt most is a 25-million dollar reduction in hospital construction grants to the states. This is a one-third slash that will be applied in all states.

Then there was a 9½ million dollar reduction in funds to help school districts overburdened by influxes of military and defense personnel. Bound to be affected here are a host of Ohio school districts — including those near Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton and in the Southern Ohio atomic plant area.

Still awaited is the revised budget of the Atomic Energy Commission. How it will bear on the new atomic materials production plant going up in Pike County remains to be seen.

There is a feeling here that any real slash in the three billion dollar expansion program will be borne to some extent by the Pike County plant.

Sen. John W. Bricker has served notice he would fight any effort to halt construction of this plant or to cut its size. A member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Commission. Bricker believes a full-scale atomic weapons program is vital to the preservation of world peace.

Bricker said Deputy Secretary of Defense Kyes denied he recommended to the National Security Council that the Pike County project be reappraised. About 200 million dollars has already been spent or committed on the plant. The full project would cost more than a billion dollars.

U.S. Has Plenty Of Atomic Bombs, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif), a member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, says the U. S. has "several times" as many A-bombs stockpiled as it needs to meet any Russian threat.

Hinshaw made the statement yesterday on a radio-television program. Appearing with him were Representatives McCormack (D-Mass) and Judd (R-Minn) and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss).

Hinshaw and Judd defended President Eisenhower's proposal to cut Air Force appropriations by more than five billion dollars from the budget requested by former President Truman.

Stennis and McCormack argued against them, saying Air Force reduction would be a "mistake" comparable to similar cuts in 1949 before the Korean War broke out.

Spanish War Vets Dine With Auxiliary

Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans, and the Betsy Ross Auxiliary No. 14, enjoyed a noon dinner at the Grotto Hall Friday.

In the afternoon, the Camp held a short business meeting and the auxiliary met for inspection. Mrs. Merle Hessler, of Springfield, state guard, was the inspecting officer.

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Greatha Helt, who passed away recently, and Jean Booth Perry, a national past president, from Glencoe, Ill.

Announcement of the state convention at Columbus June 14-17 was made. Several Marion auxiliary members plan to attend.

Guests were Mrs. Gertrude Arn and Mrs. W. E. Sorgen of Kenton.

Tin Pan Alley

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A baby oyster and a young songwriter in America today have about the same chance of success. The odds are more than 1,000,000-to-1 against either.

Let us consider the oyster first. A conscientious, motherly oyster may emit several million eggs at a single spawning. It is sink or swim almost from the start for them. And, life being what it is, if even one manages to survive long enough to grow a shell to protect him from the cold, cruel world—he is a mighty lucky young bivalve.

Now take songwriters. How many are there?

"Some 160,000,000 in America right now—and more born every minute," said Bob Hilliard. "Everybody in this country writes at least one lyric in his lifetime."

"There are fewer than 10 active lyric writers now alive earning $25,000 a year," said Hilliard. "It is a cruel thing to say, but it is your third hit that makes you a songwriter—not your first one."

Bob, a tall, pleasant man of 35 who never took a music lesson in his life, is high among the top 10 in the field. Starting with "They've Got an Awful Lot of Coffee in Brazil," he's turned out at least one hit song a year since 1946. He wrote the lyrics for the Broadway musical, "Hazel Flagg," three movies, and is now teamed with his wife on a new musical, "Land of the Laughing Dollar."

Among his more than 350 songs are "Civilization," "Dear Hearts and Gentle People," "Bouquet of Roses," "Stop, You're Killing me," "Thousand Island Song," and "Send My Baby Back to Me."

"Anybody with normal intelligence who will work at it hard enough can write a hit lyric," Bob said flatly. "But to keep turning out hits you can't treat songwriting as a hobby. You have to make it a 24-hour-a-day job."

He himself averages better than a song a week, sometimes turns out two or three in a single night.

Hilliard first tried to get rich selling a vitamin coffee product he patented sometime after finishing high school.

"I went broke trying to buy all the mice the pure food and drug people wanted me to test the coffee on to see if it had any food value," he recalled wryly.

Later he opened a merchandising office in a Broadway building in the middle of Tin Pan Alley. As the cobwebs gathered around his desk, Bob listened to the tunes drifting in his window.

"I decided I could write better lyrics than I was hearing," he said.

"They say you must know people to get started in this business. I knew nobody. But I did have a feeling for words, form, meter and rhythm."

Bob plugged away until he got a night club to let him write a few songs for its show, and hasn't had a setback since.

"It helps to be in Tin Pan Alley because of the environment," he said. "And the business centers here. You have to be with people. A man might write one good song on a desert island. But if he's going to go on from there, he has to be among people.

"The big problem is to catch the feeling of the times, yet not to copy a trend. Follow - up tunes rarely succeed. New York City is a wonderful cross-section of life, and that is why most of the best songs are written here."

Hilliard has made a discovery about success that always astonishes sucessful people:

"It is that success is always insurmountable — you always have one more problem. You think when you reach a certain goal, everything will be easy from then on. And it isn't that way at all. There is always something more to be done."

I asked Bob what song of all the songs ever in the history of the world he would most like to have written himself.

"'Jingle Bells,' he said. "it is a happy song—and I like anything that has to do with parties and enjoyment."

Tito Comments On Peace Talks

SLAVONSKI BROD, Yugoslavia, (AP)—President Tito says big power talks to ease the cold war are a good idea provided they are for discussion only and do not make final decisions.

Speaking here yesterday to an anniversary celebration of wartime, partisans, Tito applauded British Prime Minister Churchill's proposal of big power talks as "one of the most important" speeches in recent years. But the Yugoslav leader said such talks should be to "feel the pulse of world opinion, not for final decision."

"It would be fatal," Tito declared, "if the big powers would again decide about the fate of small countries."

Quiz Woman In Death Of 3 Daughters

ALMA, Mich (AP)—Authorities renewed questioning today of a 23-year-old mother held for investigation in the fire deaths of her three small daughters.

She is Mrs. Leila Rouse of Alma. The children, who suffocated in the fire, were Kayleen Rouse, 5; Patricia, 3, and Lewanna, 2.

Mrs. Rouse told police an overturned candle apparently started a fire in the bedroom of their small home. Prosecutor Kenneth Plaxton said, however, police found traces of fuel oil on the floor, on charred papers under the bed, and on the mattress.

A lie detector test in East Lansing proved inconclusive, Plaxton said.

Mrs. Rouse said her husband Ferris left home five weeks ago and that electricity was cut off two weeks ago for nonpayment of bills. So when Kayleen awoke at midnight Saturday and asked for a light in the room, the mother said, she lighted a candle and stuck it in a pop bottle as a makeshift candlestick.

She said she returned to the living room to resume reading, but dozed off. She said the heat awakened her and that she immediately ran to neighbors to summon help.

She said the fuel oil found about the damaged bedroom apparently spilled through a loose valve on a space heater.

Firemen from Central Station were summoned Saturday at 7 p.m. to extinguish a fire in a coal pile on the Pennsylvania Railroad. It belonged to the Pollak Steel Co. Very slight damage resulted.

$2 Million Fire Loss at Delphos

DELPHOS, O. (AP) — Fire swept through the Gramm Trailer Corp. plant here today, causing damage estimated at two million dollars.

No one was injured. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Virtually all the factory, which covers about 10 acres, was destroyed. About 70 trailers and 16 special Army trailers were lost.

An explosion in the center of the plant rocked the factory about 6 a. m. and flames engulfed the building before firemen from Delphos, Lima and Spencerville could reach the scene.

Numerous other explosions followed.

The plant turned out an estimated 150 truck trailers a month. It employs about 400 persons.

White Sox Continue Hot Streak, Whip Washington, 7-3

Club Furnishes Surprise; Only Half Game Behind

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

The name of the manager of the Chicago White Sox is Paul Richards, despite rumors going around the American League that it's Houdini.

With only one regular hitting over .300, and with a pitching staff composed largely of castoffs, the White Sox today were just half a game out of first place. They've won nine of their last 11 games, many of them with spine-chilling late-innng rallies.

But how long can it go on

Remember 1951 when the Pale Hose had the league agog for the first three months, only to fall off to almost nothing. Then last year, although they never did reach first place, they climbed to second in July, and eventually finished operations in third place.

This year Richards said he thought the Sox could win the pennant—if.

So far none of his ifs have been holding up. It's as though the team is balancing itself in midair. Only catcher Sherman Lollar is over the .300 mark. He's hitting .348, and this is a pleasant surprise to Richards, who for a time thought of demoting him from the first-string catching job.

Billy Pierce, with a 5-1 mark, and reliefer Harry Dorish, have been carrying the pitching staff to a large extent. Dorish has been in 13 games and owns a 3-0 record. But more important, the Sox have won nine of the games in which he has appeared.

Saul Rogovin staggered through to a 7-3 victory over the Washington Senators yesterday, and if the league-leading New York Yankees had lost, Richards and his operative would have been in first place. But the Yanks won too, beating the St. Louis Browns, 6-5.

Rogovin gave up 11 hits but was effective enough when it counted to keep down the Nats' run production to hang up his second victory against four defeats.

The Sox had a good day at the plate and pounded three Washington pitchers for 12 hits, including a home run by Sam Mele with one on.

The Yanks came mighty close to losing. Brownie rookie Don Larsen was just two strikes away from victory when he ran into trouble in the person of third-string catcher Ralph Houk of the Bombers.

The Brownies were ahead, 4-2, there were two out in the ninth and Larsen had one strike on Houk. But the ex-Ranger Major singled, and so did Billy Martin. Irv Noren drove them both home with a triple. That sent the game into extra innings. The Brownies scored once in their half of the 10th on a couple of singles and a sacrifice.

But the Yanks came right back to win the ball game for reliefer Bob Kuzava. Gene Woodling singled, Phil Rizzuto doubled, Pinch-hitter Eddie Lopat was passed purposely and Martin singled home Woodling and Rizuto.

The game ran three hours and 33 minutes and the two teams used a total of 41 players, a major league record.

Early Wynn and Mike Garcia hurled the third-place Cleveland Indians to a double-header triumph over the Philadelphia A's.

Cleveland won the first, 7-3, and Wynn allowed only six hits. Jim Hegan helped out with a three-run homer. The second was a little tougher. Mike Garcia and the A's Alex Kellner engaged in a tight duel for seven innings. But in the 10th, Kellner blew to the stratosphere and the Indians scored eight runs to wrap up a 9-1 victory.

The scheduled double-header between the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox was washed out.

In the National League, the Cincinnati Redlegs must have used up all their hitting power in the first game of their double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers. They won the opener, 13-5, on the wings of home runs by Jim Greengrass, Gus Bell, Ted Klusewski and Willard Marshall.

But in the nightcap, Carl Erskine held them to one hit—a dribbly bunt down the third base line by Bell—as the Dodgers registered a 10-0 shutout.

The Brooks moved into third place by virtue of their victory and the New York Giants' 9-6 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Tookie Gilbert, who had produced but one single in his last 15 times at bat, was the big man in the

Prexies Place 4 Runners In State Meet

Locals Gain Seventh Place At District Event

Four Harding High School track stars qualified for the state meet Saturday during the Central District Class A meet at Delaware. The state event will be run off Saturday at Columbus.

The Harding squad came in in seventh place with a point total of 19 17-35 points. Columbus East copped the district crown with 45 33-70 points. Other teams topping the Prexies were Columbus South, 27½; Worthington, 27 2-7; Columbus Central, 24 27-35; Columbus West, 24 2-7; and Newark, 23.

The four Harding men to take part in the state meet are Fred Price in the mile run, Jack Craft in the pole vault, Gary Ballinger in the broad jump and Frank Green in the high jump.

George Gauthier of the Ohio Wesleyan University athletic department said the meet Saturday was run under the worst weather conditions in 20 years. Rain started falling early in the morning and by afternoon the entire track was under three to five inches of water. Spills, pulled muscles and poor times were common.

Craft notched a first place for the Prexies in the pole vault but had to share the spot with four others, Coach Ken Somerlot said the vaulters were unable to grip the wet poles and the top jump was 9-6.

Gary Ballinger turned in his top jump of the season as he placed first in the broad jump. He leaped a distance of 20-11. Somerlot described the jump as remarkable since the takeoff board and runway were covered with water.

Harding's Frank Green was the first person to clear 5-4 in the high jump but was tied by six other contestants. Most of the jumpers slipped on the takeoff and several were hurt in the event. Jack Boxwell heaved the discus for a distance of 128 feet and 7 inches but copped only a fifth place. Boxwell threw with the second flight after the rain had started in earnest.

Ballinger came in fourth in the ADDED STARTER RAN A GOOD RACE. A surprise starter in the mile run at the Illinois High School track meet in Champaign, Ill., this dog splashed along in second place for three-quarters of a mile before tiring. Like the dog, the runners are unidentified.

Patty Berg Wins In Sudden Death Playoff

RENO (AP)—Patty Berg took $875 top money in the first annual Nevada Women's professional golf tournament Sunday by sinking an eight-foot putt on the fourth hole of a sudden-death playoff.

Miss Berg, Betty Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., and Louise Suggs, Atlanta, had tied after 18 holes with 151's.

ace, Jack Blackburn, his toughest race of the year. Price came in second, trailing the winner by 10 feet. Don Smith was leading in at the seventh hurdle during the 180-yard preliminaries. He hit the last two hurdles on the muddy track and lost out. Doug Bibler qualified in the low hurdles but was unable to compete in the afternoon because of a sore leg muscle.

Chet King and Ballinger qualified in the 220-yard dash but King came in fifth for the best Harding place.

Somerlot will drill his four qualifiers to the state this week at the Stadium.

Place in Class B Track Events

Richwood's thinclads placed second in the Class B district track meet at Delaware Saturday with a total of 33 1-5 points. Gahanna won the title with 41 1-5 points.

Marysville finished fourth and Elm Valley was eighth.

Morral topped the Marion County entrants with a 13th place finish while Pleasant came in 15th. Claridon was 16th and Green Camp netted one point to finish in 19th.

Pleasant's Bowman topped the field in the shot put with a heave of 43' 7½. He notched a fifth in the discus to account for seven points for Pleasant.

John Craycraft of Morral tied for first in the high jump when he cleared 5' 5".

OPEN TONIGHT

LEBANON, O. (AP) — They'll try again to open the spring harness racing season at Lebanon raceway tonight, following postponement of the scheduled nine-race program because of rain Saturday.

Gets New Jockey For Preakness Run

Arcaro Won't Ride Correspondent; Summers Named

BALTIMORE (AP)—Trainer Wally Dunn's theory that a change in riders might help Correspondent do better against Dark Star than in the Kentucky Derby gets tested today in the Preakness Prep.

The two speedsters and four others are entered in their last competition before the $100,000 Preakness Saturday. The Prep also has drawn Eugene Constantin Jr.'s Royal Bay Gem, Bruce Campbell's Ram O' War, Darby Dan Stable's Lord Jeffery, and Alex Bruscino's Country Gossip.

Correspondent, owned by Mrs. Gordon Guiberson, ran on Dark Star's tail for the first mile of the Derby May 2. Then he dropped back to fifth while the pride of Cain Hoy Stable held on to win by a head over Native Dancer.

Earlier this week Dunn told Eddie Arcaro, Correspondent's Derby jockey, he should look elsewhere for a Preakness mount.

Dunn said he was putting Bob Summers, who had ridden Correspondent in California before the colt came east to train for the Derby, back in the saddle.

Tribe Takes Pair

Eight-Run Rally in 10th Wins For Mike Garcia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Indians didn't mind left handers Sunday. They beat Bobby Shantz, 7-3, then turned right around and defeated another Philadelphia lefty, Alex Kellner, 9-1.

Before that they had lost four straight to southpaws.

The Indians got plenty of help from the Athletics in delivering their final Sunday punch in the 10th inning of the second game. Through the ninth inning, Mike Garcia and Kellner were tied at 1-1.

There was one out in the 10th and Indians on first and second, when Garcia hit a grass cutter that looked like a sure double play that would end the inning.

Instead Eddie Joost bobbled the ball, then hurriedly threw to Pete Suder. Suder muffed it, and everybody was safe and the bases were loaded.

There followed a scoring spree that ended in eight runs, which tied an American league record set by Detroit in Washington July 22, 1943.

Ray Boone knocked in two runs with a single. Bob Avila's double scored two more. Larry Doby walked and Kellner left the game to be replaced by Harry Byrd. Al Rosen singled Avila home. After Bob Kennedy got on with a scratch hit to fill the bases Jim Lemon hit his second single of the inning to score two more.

Byrd left, and Morris Martin came in, only to let Bill Glynn drive in the eighth run of the inning. Martin then retired Jim Hegan on a fly and fanned Garcia.

Hegan was the major factor in the first game. He belted a three-run homer in the second inning. Early Wynn had little trouble pitching his fourth victory of the season in that game.

This is a day off for the Indians, but they take a bus to Reading tonight to play an exhibition game with their farmhands there.

Toledo Escapes Cellar Position

By The Associated Press

With leading Kansas City and runnerup Louisville forced to spend the entire week-end on the sidelines, a couple of down-the-ladder feuds took over top American Association interest.

St. Paul and Indianapolis fought for third place in a three-game set. Indianapolis won the first game Saturday, displacing the Saints from the No. 3 spot, and held on to the position with a split in a Sunday doubleheader.

St. Paul won the first game 8-7 and the Indians took the second 6-3.

Toledo hoped out of the cellar and pushed Minneapolis into it by beating the Millers Saturday. The teams split a Sunday doubleheader and Minneapolis continued in last place.

Minneapolis won the opener 3-2 and Toledo copped the nightcap 5-1.

Doubleheaders between Charleston and Kansas City and Columbus and Louisville were postponed because of rain.

Bunt Robs Erskine Of No-Hit Game

Bell Beats Out Infield Single As Redlegs Split

CINCINNATI (AP)—"You don't go after no-hit games They just happen. That's why I don't feel too bad because I missed out Sunday."

The speaker was Carl Erskine, a modest, down-to-earth guy who already has pitched one no-hitter for Brooklyn and just missed out on another Sunday when Cincinnati's Gus Bell laid down a surprise bunt. The bunt went for a single in the sixth inning, and that was the first and last hit the Redlegs saw off Erskine as they divided a doubleheader with Brooklyn, 13-5, 10-0.

Erskine remarked, "I think I had one ball on Gus when he bunted the next pitch. I was surprised, because we had a pretty good lead and I wasn't looking for a bunt. But he made a good one, there's no doubt about it. The ball rolled out and then hit a soft spot in front of the plate.

"It jumped in the air on a little hop and looked as if that was as far as it was going to go. I called my catcher, Roy Campanella, to take it, but then it rolled another foot or so. That's when I gave up on it."

Erskine's teammates backed him up with 20 hits to end a four game losing streak. Brooklyn scored in the first on two singles, and added two more on Bill Antonello's first home run of the season in the fourth. They added six more in the seventh on seven hits and an error.

Kenny Raffensberger was charged with the loss, his fourth against one win.

The opener was a seven-homer slugfest. Jim Greengrass, Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Willard Marshall hit home runs for Cincinnati. Jackie Robinson, George Shuba and Roy Campanella homered for Brooklyn.

The Redlegs jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but the Dodgers scored three runs off starter Bubba Church in the second. With none out, Frank Smith relieved Church, retired the side and went the distance for his second victory with no losses. The loss went to Bill Loes, his second against four wins.

Two Games On Card At Lincoln Park

Little League Baseball action is scheduled to open tonight at Lincoln Park.

Ceremonies are planned before Wilhelm's Wallpaper takes on Osgood at 6:15 p.m. In the nightcap, Vance Sporting Goods is paired with Hinton's Sport Shop. They are National League games.

Mayor Harold Robinson, William Slack, president of city council, and Ralph Forrest, Safety-Service director, have been invited to take part in the pre-game ceremonies. Mayor Robinson is scheduled to throw the first ball at 7 p.m. to open Little League Baseball activity.

Ceremonies will begin at 6:15 p.m. with all eight teams of the National and American Leagues, in uniform, being introduced along with team managers and coaches.

The Harding High School band will also take part in the pregame ceremonies, and the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps will perform between games.

The Baseball for Boys Commission said there would be no speeches or persons other than from Marion taking part in the ceremonies.

Bob Scott, past president of the Little League Baseball Commission, is expected to act as master of ceremonies for the pregame ceremonies.

American League action begins Tuesday with National City Bank carded against Marion County Bank and Isaly Dairy meeting Goodyear-Marion Tire Service.

Opening games in the Little League Baseball are scheduled for 6:15 p.m. and the second game is carded 15 minutes after the first game but not before 7:30 p.m.

Wilhelm's won the National League flag last year while Isaly was winning the American League pennant. Isaly was crowned city champ after winning a three-game play-off series.

Postponed games will be played on the first Friday available following the postponement, the commission announced this year. American League teams play on Tuesday and Thursday nights, National League teams on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Courtney Hits Despite Boos From NY Fans

Pinch-Hit Single Gives Brownies Temporary Lead

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—"Clint Courtney, No. 11, now batting for Virgil Trucks!"

The announcement of the cocky St. Louis catcher's name over the public address system was the signal for loud, drawn-out booing and catcalls from the 42,596 Yankee Stadium spectators at yesterday's double-header between the Yankees and Browns.

A majority of the fans came with the hope they would see a resumption of the much-ballyhooed battle the belligerent backstop staged in St. Louis with several members of the Yankees.

As Courtney swaggered to the plate, he was greeted by bits of newspapers that came floating out of the stands. A red rubber ball bounced a few feet from him and the plate umpire picked it up and flung it into the Yankee dugout.

Courtney ignored the crowd, stepped briskly into the batter's box, looked at left-hander Bob Kuzava's first two pitches, then stroked a single to right, scoring Connie Berry. The clutch hit came in the top of the 10th inning of the opener and gave the Browns a temporary 5-4 lead. The Yankees, however, roared back with two tallies in their half of the 10th to win, 6-5.

Courtney, before the game, was reluctant to talk about his single-handed scuffle with five Yankees.

"I wish you fellows would quit asking me about my fights with opposing players," he complained. "I'm a ballplayer, not a fighter. Or maybe you didn't know.

"Why don't you ask me about my playing? Did you know that I've made five hits in the last six times at bats? I'm up to around .300 now after a slow start because of a couple of jammed-up fingers. I led all catchers in the league in batting and fielding last year and I'm going to lead them again this year."

Courtney said he held no grudge against any of the Yankees who had ganged up on him after he had slid hard into Phil Rizzuto in the last encounter between the Browns and Yankees.

"I'm no cry-baby," he said. "Nobody has ever heard me complain about being hit or anything like that. I play hard and I expect others to play hard too. As for Billy Martin (Yankee second baseman who has had two fights with Courtney), he's all right, I guess. I'm not out to get even with him or anybody else. But anybody who intends to run over me shouldn't expect me not to do the same to him."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy ruled the rowing world today with a firm grip that showed no sign of letting up for a long time.

The Navy varsity ran its winning streak to 19 races Saturday by coming home first in the top two events at the Potomac sprints regatta.

Eight of the nine in the Navy shell were holdovers from the Middie crew that won the spring regatta and the Olympic championship last year.

And six of those sailors will be back for competition next year.

The Middie varsity, possibly the greatest rowing team in the 101-year history of the sport, beat off a gallant bid by Harvard to win the championship.

Illinois Group To Study Films of Walcott's KO

CHICAGO (AP)—Members of Jersey Joe Walcott's camp hoped today to parlay some morning moving pictures into a strong afternoon argument that their man's knockout by Rocky Marciano be set aside.

The International Boxing Club scheduled a special theater showing of three-dimension films of Friday night's two minutes and 25 seconds of action, which ended in Walcott's KO by the heavyweight champion.

Invited were the press, members of the Illinois Athletic Commission and representatives of both fighters. Neither Marciano nor Walcott will be present. Both have left town.

The films were taken from four angles and all four will be run off, both at normal tempo and in slow motion.

Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, and his lawyer, Angelo Malandra, maintain the films will prove their contention that Referee Frank Sikora gave the 39-year-old challenger a "fast count."

They plan to file a formal protest with the Illinois commission in the afternoon. However, unless the movies show something not apparent to the commission, other officials and hundreds of sportswriters at ringside, the Walcott argument is not expected to get very far.

Commission Chairman Livingston Osborne and members Lou Radzienda and Johnny Behr continue to state that in their opinion Jersey Joe was counted out fully and fairly.

It was not known whether Marciano would be represented at the theater today. His manager, Al Weill, is not in town.

Rocky himself was resting in Holland, Mich., where he trained for the brief bout. His plans are indefinite but may have been helped along somewhat by a recommendation of the National Boxing Association Executive Board yesterday.

At a meeting in Milwaukee, the board recommended that Roland La Starza and Ezzard Charles fight each other for the right to meet the champion.

Middlecoff At Peak As Open Nears

Finishes 7 Points Ahead of Demaret In Round Robin

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—For the last four or five years those who follow golf's gold dust trail have been calling Dr. Cary Middlecoff the sport's "heir apparent." If this be so, now may be the time for Doc to keep his date with destiny.

The lean Memphis dentist has reached the peak of his game with the U. S. Open championship less than a month away. He won the fast Meadow Brook Round Robin title yesterday after five rounds of sparkling golf.

He registered 70-64-66-67-66 for 333, 17 under par. Arithmetically, he finished seven points ahead of Jimmy Demaret.

"I am playing better than ever in my life," Cary said. "If I can keep this up I should do all right in the Open." The Open is scheduled to start June 8 at Oakmont, near Pittsburgh.

Middlecoff has been consistently among the first three money winners in the past five years and in 1949 he won the Open championship at Chicago's Medinah Club, but that was the year of Ben Hogan's near-fatal automobile accident and the lanky Southerner was regarded, more or less, as an interim champion.

Hogan came back to win in 1950 and '51 and last year Julius Boros came scrambling out of nowhere

Girls League Postpones Opener for One Week

Opening games in the Marion Girls' Softball League have been postponed, Jim O'Brien, league secretary, announced today. The games originally set for Tuesday night will be played a week later on May 26.

O'Brien said the three fields on which the games were to have been played were flooded by the week-end rainfall. Managers of the six teams are hoping for a break in the weather to allow extra drill periods before the openers.

Elect Parliament In Red Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Communist Hungary elected a new 298-member Parliament yesterday from a single list of candidates drafted by the Communist-led People's Front.

No opposition candidates were listed but voters had the right to vote against the slate.

It was generally conceded that the government of Premier Matyas Rakosi would produce a big vote of approval when the official returns are announced later in the week.

"People's educators" questioned those who did not vote during the morning hours yesterday. They returned several times until the laggards went to their district polling place. Invalids and elderly people were taken to the polls by car.
